ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The duty of acknowledgement is a pleasant academic exercise as it represents the conscious expression of gratitude for all those selfless contributors and well-wishers. These few lines are inadequate to compensate the immense help I received from all those who helped me in completing this dissertation.

First of all, I express my profound feelings of indebtedness to my Research Guide and Supervisor, Prof. M. Ranganatham, Head of the Department of Commerce, University of Madras, who has extended his whole hearted invaluable scholarly guidance and cheerful readiness to help in the completion of my research study. He has been my guide in the true sense of the word. At every stage of my work, he offered me advice and suggestions which went a long way in completing this work successfully. It is my proud privilege to work under him. I acknowledge in all sincerity, my gratitude to the learned professor. Empathy, perfection, honesty and tolerance towards students ignorance are his unique qualities which I admire and wish to acquire to be a better teacher in life.

My special regards and thanks to Dr. N. P. Srinivasan, former Professor and Head, Department of Commerce, University of Madras, for his valuable assistance. I am grateful to Dr. P. T. Srinivasan, Department of Management Studies, University of Madras, for his expert comments and constructive suggestions to improve the quality of this thesis.

I thank Dr. D. Amarchand, the then Head of the Department of Commerce, University of Madras, who was kind enough to admit me into the department for doing the research work.

I thank the Management of Guru Shree Shanthi Vijai Jain College For Women, for according permission to pursue this research work on part-time basis. I convey my sincere thanks to Shri Goutham Vaid, B.E., Hon Secretary, Guru Shree Shanthi Vijai Jain College For Women, for providing me with study leave without which this academic venture would not have been completed.
I thank the Principal, Dr. M. K. Malathi, profusely for her moral support and encouragement in this endeavour. I recall that it was she who introduced the concept of Corporate Governance to me with her proposal to organize a seminar in the year 1998. My thanks are due to my department colleagues for their constant words of encouragement and support.

My special regards and sincere thanks are due to my husband, Mr. M.V. Narasimha Murthy, whose financial assistance, abiding concern, and support have helped me throughout the study period. I express my gratitude and regards to my father, Sri. P.S. Sastry, whose will-power and blessings encouraged me to take up and complete this academic endeavour. I convey my thanks and respects to my father-in-law, Sri. M.Radakrishniah, for all the moral support and encouragement. My children, M.Meenu and M.V.S. Santhosh, deserve to be appreciated for allowing me to devote time and concentrate on this research work.

I thank Mrs.N.Alamelu, M.S. (Industrial Management) ANSI Techniques for her immense help in statistical analysis. I am also grateful to all the respondents to the Questionnaire who have been good enough to spare their valuable time. I am grateful to the lab in charge officers and Library Staff of IFMR for the excellent services provided by them.

Above all, I thank God Almighty for his grace in making this venture a success.
