This thesis is the end of my journey in obtaining my Ph.D. I have not travelled in a vacuum in this journey. This thesis has been kept on track and been seen through to completion with the support and encouragement of numerous people including my well wishers, my friends, colleagues and various institutions. At the end of my thesis I would like to thank all those people who made this thesis possible and an unforgettable experience for me. At the end of my thesis, it is a pleasant task to express my thanks to all those who contributed in many ways to the success of this study and made it an unforgettable experience for me.

I wish to start by showing my gratitude to God. I strongly believe that no work is complete without the blessings of God. It is his blessings that gave me strength to fulfill my dream.

I wish to acknowledge my gratitude to my respected supervisor, Dr. Madhurima, Associate Professor, University School of Open Learning, Panjab University, Chandigarh for her guidance and selfless support. I would like to express my sincere thanks to her for enlightening me and giving me encouragement to fulfill the dream of my parents, which was difficult to achieve due to visual impairment. I will remain indebted to her throughout my life for her constant encouragement and moral support. She spared her precious time and helped me whenever and wherever I needed her. I could not have imagined having a better advisor and mentor for my PhD study. Her invaluable support and constructive suggestions shaped the study. It improved not only the quality of this research but also helped me in achieving satisfaction and success. I am indebted to her more than she knows.

I owe my cordial thanks to Dr. (Mrs.) Rajesh Gill, Professor and Chair person, Department of Sociology for extending cooperation and granting me permission to execute the research work. I also like to thank her for constructive suggestions and motivation. I am also thankful to Prof Sherry Sabanwal for her constructive comments.
It is a pleasure to thank the many people who made this thesis possible. I would like to pay a special tribute to Director Late Mr. E.M. Johnson, VRTC-Ludhiana for their support and extreme guidance during the initial phase of my rehabilitation.

I wish to express my sincere thanks to Maj. Gen. Rajendra Nath PVSM (Retd.) the Chairman, Mr. K. R. Sood the Principal and all other respected members of the management of the Institute for the blind sector 26, Chandigarh for encouragement and appreciation.

I would like to extend my thanks and appreciation to Mr. J.S. Jayara, Headmaster of Institute for the blind, Prof. Rajesh Mohan (General Secretary of the National Federation of the Blind). I feel obliged to Mr. D.P. Pathak and Mr. M. G. Vashisht for providing me authentic data, valuable and useful information, literature and guidance on the topic under study and support services available for the visually impaired.

I would definitely place on record a sense of appreciation and heartfelt thanks to all my friends, social workers and colleagues, Ms Rupali, Poonam, Jasleen, Geetnazali, Rosy, Babita, Malika, Pritpal Cheema, Bani Cheema, Ekroop Sidhu, Kuljeet Sodi, Anuradha Saini, Rekha Ravat, Urmil Sharma, Gursharan Kaur, Vijay Chawla and Tarun for their countless hours of volunteer reading, writing and escorting me to various institutions for the collection of information and literature. Without their support and positive attitude I would not have been able to persistently work on this research work. I would like to acknowledge Mrs. Keerty Singla a visually impaired computer teacher for her immense contribution in making me self-reliant by teaching me computer with screen reading software.

I wish to accord my deep thanks to Mr. Vishawjit, Mr. Pankaj, Ms Nirmla for their ever available cooperation in editing all the research work and technical assistance provided to me during the final stage of my work for the preparation of report.

Where would I be without my family? My parents deserve special mention for their inseparable support and prayers. My Father, Late Shri. Bishamber Das, in the first place is the person who put the fundament my learning character, showing me the joy of intellectual pursuit ever since I was a child. My Mother Smt. Raj Rani is the one who sincerely raise me with her caring and gentle love. Ramesh Kumar Ji, Suman, Parveen, Vinod and Anil, thanks for being supportive and caring siblings. Their sincere encouragement and inspiration throughout my research work and lifted me uphill this phase of life. I also owe a great deal to my sisters -in-law, nephew and nieces for motivating me to pursue higher studies. I am also indebted to my parents-in-law for their constant support, encouragement and co-operation.

My husband needs special mention for providing huge amount of support. Words fail me to express my appreciation to my husband Sr.Rajinder Singh whose dedication, love and persistent confidence in me, has taken the load off my shoulder. I owe him for being unselfishly let his intelligence, passions, and ambitions collide with mine. Without his synergistic support, continued inspiration, it would not have been possible to complete my research work. It is his positive and motivating attitude that helped to complete this research on time. He was always beside me during the happy and hard moments to push me and motivate me. A journey is easier when you travel together. Interdependence is certainly more valuable than independence. No words can adequately express my feelings for my daughter dear Harsheen whose love and affection is always a source of inspiration and strength to complete this work.

The purpose of acknowledgement will not suffice if I fail to mention the special thanks to my respondents without whose cooperation this work would not have been completed on time. Besides this, several people have knowingly and unknowingly helped me in the successful completion of this thesis. I would like to extend my thanks and appreciation to the all people who have supported me directly or indirectly through my journey of learning.
