Acknowledgement

It would not have been possible to write this doctoral thesis without the help and support of the kind people around me, to only some of whom it is possible to give particular mention here.

I would like to express my deepest gratitude to my guide, Dr. Vijaya B. Korishetti, Chairperson, Department of Studies in Sociology, Karnataka State Women’s University, Bijapur for her excellent guidance, caring, patience, and providing me with an excellent atmosphere for doing research.

My thanks are due to Sri M.P. Baligar, Professor, Department of Studies in Sociology, Karnataka State Women’s University, Bijapur for his help.

I am deeply indebted to Sri Ganga dhar Sonar, Professor, Dept. of Social Work, Rani Channamma University Study Centre, Bijapur and Shri Gavisiddappa, Professor, Department of Library Science, Karnataka State Women’s University, Bijapur for having helped me in computerizing the data and in statistical analysis.

I express my deep sense of gratitude to and Shri Guddad for his help and the best suggestions.

I express my thanks and indebtedness to my uncle Sri S.R.Diwan, the help, support and encouragement to expedite the process of this research.

I would record my thanks to the respondent sample bring out child rag pickers of Bijapur city for their kind, generous support and interaction during my course of field work.
I take this opportunity to thank Shri M. H. Mujawar for having computerised the first and final draft of this thesis. My thanks are to Shri Dattatreya M. Mahindrakar for binding this thesis.

I would like to thank my parents, my aunt Smt Vithabai, my brothers Shri Ganesh and Shri Vijayakumar and their families and my sister Smt. Sujata. They were always supporting me and encouraging me with their best wishes.

Last but not least, my thanks are reserved to my life partner Shri Anand. He was always there cheering me up and stood by me through the good times and bad. I owe a special debt to my lovely son Karthik who remained deprived of my love and affection during the period of this research.
