ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Words are often too weak to express one’s feelings of indebtedness to one’s benefactors. The same difficulty haunts me because the drops of words are few, but the ocean of feelings of gratitude is deeper in my heart. First of all, I am greatly thankful to the almighty God, who gave me strength to complete this research work successfully with patience and confidence even in so many adverse situations. I am fortunate enough that I got an opportunity to pursue this arduous research work under the able supervision of Dr. Ravinder Kaur, Principal, Malwa Central College of Education for Women, Ludhiana and I express my gratitude to her for her inspiring guidance, constant supervision and stimulating discussions throughout the investigation. Her encouragement and valuable suggestions proved an immense help to me in completing this study. I am also thankful to the principals, teachers and students of all the schools, who co-operated with me for the collection of required data. I am equally thankful to Mr. Bachittar Singh, a statistician for his guidance and valuable suggestions during the course of this research work. I also express my feelings and sense of gratitude to my parents, especially my mom, who taught me to dream and achieve, gave me roots of responsibility and wings of independence; and my brother Dr. Mandeep Singh and my best friend Shaveta Bhardwaj who always cherished the desire to see me rise, for providing matchless help, which helped to make this research work a fruitful one. Words fail to express my deep gratitude to my fiancé, Aman Kalia for his inspiration, personal involvement, patience and sincere interest which has enabled me to achieve this arduous objective.
