Acknowledgement

No one walks alone in the journey of life and I would not have been able to complete this journey without the aid and support of countless people. It is a pleasure to convey my gratitude to them all who have contributed in many ways to the success and completion of this Thesis.

I feel a deep sense of gratitude and indebtedness towards my mentors and esteemed supervisors, Prof. Sangeeta Arora and Prof. Kajal K. Mahajan, Department of Statistics, Panjab University Chandigarh for their inspiration, valuable guidance and constant feedback throughout this study. I am highly indebted to them for their encouragement, support coupled with constructive criticism, fertile imagination, continuous interest, elucidations, general smiles, friendly temperament and above all the ever encouraging attitude and their valuable time throughout the development and the completion of this thesis. Despite their ever increasing academic responsibilities and engagements, they have been always available for discussion. Their guidance was paramount in providing a well rounded experience in the completion of this thesis.

I extend my sincere thanks to the Chairperson, Department of Statistics, Panjab University, Chandigarh and all the other Faculty Members of the department for their cooperation, help, support and kindness in allowing me to avail the research facilities of the department.

Words have no power to express my regard and gratitude to my parents Sh. Balwant Singh and Smt. Rukmani Devi and my brother Mr. Mukesh Kumar for their endless love, affection, silent sacrifices and incessant encouragement which enabled me to keep going throughout my academic life. To them I owe more than I can express.

I am grateful to my wife Sonia Gaur for her never ending support, inspiration and encouragement throughout my research work. I will be indebted to her for the time and company which she missed during the most important phase of her life.

Many people contributed their time and expertise in the development and execution of this research work as well as expressing my apology that I could not mention personally one by one.

Above all, I thank the Almighty for everything.
