ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Heartiest thanks to one and all who have directly or indirectly helped me in the completion of my thesis.

There are occasions when silence conveys all that is to be said, being indebted, having a feeling of gratitude towards someone who has furthered your professional career by guiding you through the maze of search, besides opening a new vista of search for your limited life is just belittling a great professional. Since norms are to be followed hence, first of all, I am thankful to the almighty for his infinite blessings on me. His benevolence has made my efforts see the light of the day in the form of this thesis.

I have a great pleasure in expressing my profound regard and deep sense of gratitude to my esteemed supervisor, Prof. G. Kumara Varma, Professor, Department of Indian Theatre, Panjab University, Chandigarh who patiently supervised me throughout my research work. Without his unrivalled guidance, constant encouragement, painstaking efforts, keen observance, benevolent attention the present work would have remained futile.

I express my cordial thanks to Prof. Neelam Man Singh Chaudhury, Chairperson, Department of Indian Theatre, Panjab University, Chandigarh for providing me all the necessary infrastructure and research facilities througho: my research work.

I am thankful to the great theatre personalities like Mr. A. K. Hangal, Mr. Kuldeep Singh and other members of IPTA for their invaluable and timely help. Their considerable knowledge, co-operation and valuable suggestions made me achieve my goals easily.

I am thankful to Mr. Satish Kumar, Mr. Vijey Jain and other members of Non-teaching staff for providing me necessary material wherever required.

I am thankful to Ms. Tejinder Kaur for helping me in the compilation of the thesis.

Last but not the least, I want to thank my family members for lending me their invaluable support. My heartiest thanks to my mother without whose blessings and
