References

15. Barletta, M. (2003), Marketing to women: How to understand, reach, increase the share of the world’s largest segment. Chicago, Illinois, Dearborn Trade Publishing

41. ------------------, “TCS, Infosys and Wipro are top Indian IT employers of women” published on 30th January, 2013. Information has been accessed from http://www.dqindia.com/dataquest/feature/173729/tcs-infosys-wipro-indian-it-employers-women
42. ------------------, “TCS, Infosys and Wipro are top Indian IT employers of women”, online published on 30th January, 2013, retrieved from www.dqindia.com

204

68. Flagg, Alex. (2002), “Managing diverse workgroups successfully”, United Behavioral Health website

102. Jackson et al. (Eds), (1992), Diversity in the Workplace, New York: Guilford Press, 1992)

131. Kulik, C.T., and Loriann Roberson, (2008), What organizations can expect from diversity, recruitment, diversity training and formal mentoring programs, diversity at work, Cambridge University Press, pp 265-317

143. Mivelle-Guzman, Universality Diversity Scale-(M-GUDS-S), Developed by Wabash National Study of liberal arts foundation, www.liberalarts.wabash.edu

212
152. NASSCOM & Mercer Report “Gender Inclusivity and Diversity in the Indian IT-BPO Industry”, (2008), and “Gender inclusivity in India: building empowered organizations” (2009)

153. NASSCOM-Deloitte (2008), “Indian IT Industry: Impacting the Economy and Society”, NASSCOM, New Delhi, India

154. Nelson and Quick (2009), Organization Behaviour, Cengage Learning, Second Indian Reprint

187. Saini, Debi S.(1999), “Law and Social Development in India”, paper presented at an international workshop on Law and Social Development organized by the Parliamentary Commission on Social Development of Mexico at Mexico city (November 24-26)

diversity practices”, “Employee development”, and “Diversity launch” retrieved from SHRM website, http://www.shrm.org

