It gives me pleasure to record my thanks to Dr. N.K. Oberoi, former Chairman, Department of English, Panjab University, Chandigarh, under whose guidance this thesis was undertaken. It is his encouragement and constructive criticism which has led to the successful completion of this work.

I am very grateful to Dr. G.S. Mann, Principal, Govt. College, Jalandhar, who provided the necessary help and advice, to Dr. Prem Sagar Shastri, former Vice-Chairman, Punjab Education Board, Köholi (Chandigarh) who took pains to interpret Bharata's dramaturgy, to Dr. Anirudh Joshi, former Chairman, Department of Sanskrit for allowing me to make use of the Departmental Library and to Dr. A.K. Upadhayay who checked the manuscript.

Finally, I am obliged to the numerous publishers and authors etc. cited in the thesis, to my friends and colleagues whose critical comments have often been successful in igniting the spark, and to my sons, Rajiv and Rahul, for their cooperation, and to Mr. Rama Kant Sharma, who has so painstakingly typed out the entire manuscript of the thesis in a very short time.
