Acknowledgements

The success of research work largely depends on the person under whose guidance it is completed. I must first of all, express my most heartfelt gratitude to my supervisor Dr. Manjit Singh, Reader, Department of Sociology, Panjab University, Chandigarh, for his continuous support in providing expert advice from beginning to the completion of this research. His excellent spirit, constant encouragement, illuminative guidance coupled with his kind and sympathetic behaviour, not only made it possible for me to benefit from his helpful comments but also aroused in me a habit of clear thinking as a researcher.

I express my thanks and gratitude to Prof. K.C Kaistha, Chairman, Department of Sociology, Panjab University, Chandigarh, for his invaluable guidance and providing all possible facilities for smoothly conducting and completion of this research.

Acknowledgement of deep appreciation and gratitude is extended to all the faculty members of the Department of Sociology, Panjab University, Chandigarh for their expert advice and encouragement during the course of present research. I am also very thankful to the non-teaching staff of the department for their assistance and cooperation.

I take this opportunity to thank Prof. S. L. Sharma, Dean, Arts Faculty, Panjab University and Prof. K.Gopal Iyer, formerly Chairman, Department of Sociology, P.U, Chandigarh who blessed me with their kindness, guidance and inspiring attitude during the pursuit of my research.

I also feel very indebted and obliged to Sh. S. Marriya, Principal, D.A.V College, Chandigarh, for his kind behaviour and supportive attitude towards me which facilitated in the completion of this research along with the teaching assignment in the college.

My special thanks are due to Dr. (Mrs.) Madhurima (Coordinator of Sociology, D.C.S, P.U Chandigarh) for her constant encouragement and genuine support. I am also thankful to Dr. Sartik Bagh, Dr. (Mrs.) Sarabjit Kaur, Mr.
Mohammed Yahia, Mr. Rajesh Jaiswal, Mr. Virender Kumar and Dr. Ranjay Vardhan for their constant help and good will.

I also express my thanks to the ‘Panchayats’ of all the three selected villages namely, Sultanpuria, Marora, and Udaka for the help provided in collecting the data. I also owe my thanks to Mr. Mahesh Yadav who enthusiastically assisted me in collecting data from Udaka village. I feel deeply indebted to all the respondents, who spared their valuable time and very patiently responded to my long schedule. I am highly obliged to Mr. Davesh Bansal and Mr. Mohinder Jindal, who helped me in my fieldwork and statistical analysis and application on computer respectively.

I am deeply indebted to the ‘Indian Council of Social Sciences Research’, New Delhi, for granting me short-term fellowship for the completion of this research. My sincere thanks are due to the authorities of the libraries of Panjab University, Chandigarh, Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi, ICSSR, New Delhi, CRRID, Chandigarh, and Kurukshetra University, Kurukshetra for providing me access to their collection. I also express my gratitude to the authorities of Directorate of primary and secondary education, Government of Haryana for providing me necessary data.

I express my feeling of great appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. Makesh Mehta who have been close to my heart, for their genuine help and encouragement during this research.

I express my deep sense of indebtedness and record the feelings of appreciation to my reverent father- Sh. Arjun Dev Mehta, brothers, sisters, and sister-in-laws, from whom I receive very warm and affectionate treatment and moral support without which I could not have completed this research work.

Lastly, I pay my deep obeisance to the Almighty who gave me strength to complete this work.
