ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Words cannot express the deep sense of gratitude I have for my learned supervisor Dr. A.S. Kahlon, Dean, College of Basic Science and Humanities, Punjab Agricultural University, Ludhiana, who guided me throughout the conduct of this study. He spared most of his very valuable and busy time in chiselling the research design, circumventing technical and non-technical difficulties that cropped up from time to time. In fact, his contribution to this project is much too vital to be expressed in a few words. A number of improvements in this thesis are due to the candidness with which he made suggestions.

I am grateful to Dr. S.S. Johl, Professor and Head, Dr. D.S. Sidhu, Dr. S.S. Kahlon, Dr. P.L. Sankhayan, Dr. A.C. Sharma, S. Balwinder Singh, Dr. S.S. Grewal and Dr. K.S. Gill - my colleagues in the Department of Economics and Sociology, Punjab Agricultural University, Ludhiana, who were always eager and prompt to provide me all sorts of facilities and feed my queries on this subject.

I shall be failing in my duty if I donot acknowledge my debt to those Secretaries (Market Committees), Commission Agents and Producer-Farmers who were extremely kind to offer their cooperation in the collection of field data.

Likewise I am immensely grateful to S. Balbir Singh Saini, Prof. S.S. Gill, Mrs. Surinder Aulakh, Mr. & Mrs. G.S. Aulakh, Mr. & Mrs. H.S. Gandhi, Sh. Pars Ram, my parents and family members who have contributed a lot towards the successful completion of this work.

I am also grateful to Dr. R.S. Johar, Head, Punjab School of Economics, Guru Nanak Dev University, Amritsar for having provided me adequate facilities to work on this research project.

Last but not the least I am thankful to S. Garg Singh who typed this Thesis accurately and at a very short notice.

12th January, 1976

( Harbans Singh )
Lecturer, Punjab School of Economics, Guru Nanak Dev University, Amritsar.
About the author

The author was born on October 15, 1940 at Sarhali village of district Amritsar. He earned his Master's Degree in Economics from the Punjab University, Chandigarh in 1962 and was placed on the merit list. As a graduate student, he won three medals and seven academic distinctions. From July 1962 to August 1970, he taught economic theory to the Post-graduate classes at Khalsa College, Amritsar (Punjab). In August 1970 he joined Punjab Agricultural University, Ludhiana as an Assistant Professor of Economics. This position he held upto November 1972. During the year 1966-67, he was awarded USAID fellowship for one year course in Research Methodology in Economics at Punjab Agricultural University Ludhiana. He completed this training in the First Division. He has guided the research work of 14 post-graduate students in economics and has published 32 research papers in Journals of repute. Since November 1972 he has been teaching in Punjab School of Economics, Guru Nanak Dev University, Amritsar (India).