ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

On the successful completion of my PhD thesis, I would like to express my profound gratitude and sincere appreciation to the supervising professor of my thesis Dr.(Mrs.) Deepti Gupta, English Department, Panjab University, Chandigarh who initiated me into working on such a challenging topic. I owe a special debt for her step by step guidelines during the accomplishment of this project, for her thorough work upon the materials as well as her meticulous supervision, insightful comments, constructive criticism and invaluable support. Her critical suggestions and constant directions made my research tenure as a UGC-JRF an enlightening experience. I am thankful to the UGC for giving me Financial Assistance.

I must also extend my appreciation to the chairperson of the Department of English, Panjab University and the fabulous committee members of the faculty for their ongoing support and feedback throughout the whole dissertation process. The office and library staff of the English Department have been a valuable source of input.

And, I should acknowledge my greatest debt to all my friends and colleagues at Islamic Azad Universities of Roudehen and Tabriz for their collaboration and assistance during the administration of tests of this research. My special thanks should be given to the students of Islamic Azad Universities of Roudehen and Tabriz for their cooperation in taking the tests.

A number of friends, colleagues, students and relatives offered support, love, words of encouragement and interest in the development of my ideas, during the tedious days of writing my thesis. My sincere thanks to all of them.

And the last but surely not the least, my heartfelt thanks are due to my late father whose unsparing affection and encouragement I miss tremendously and my mother and my wife whose ceaseless blessing, unfailing patience and unflinching support have been a constant source of inspiration and motivation.

26.7.2006
Amir Reza Nemati Tabrizi