LIST OF TABLES

Table 6.1: Nature of Business Product of the Corporates studied
Table 6.2: Extent of Re-use of Old Material by Corporate studied
Table 6.3: Dependence on Past Data Pattern
Table 6.4: Tacit Knowledge in Staff of Corporates studied
Table 6.5: Environmental Hazard Uncertainty in Corporate Sector
Table 6.6: Task-Inter-dependence in various sections of Corporate
Table 6.7: Task Outcome uncertainty in Corporates
Table 6.8: Predominant nature of knowledge in Corporate Respondents
Table 6.9: Availability of Formal Knowledge Management System
Table 6.10: Availability of IT based KM System
Table 6.11: Corporate Benefit if it rely on the Skills and experience
Table 6.12: Reasons for having Formal KM System
Table 6.13: Tools used for Real Time access of Information
Table 6.14: Bandwidth of existing Network.
Table 6.15: Goals to achieve through KM
Table 6.16: Knowledge Sharing Culture in Corporates
Table 6.17: Corporate Reward Method
Table 6.18: Reward for New Thinking
Table 6.19: Out of Box Thinking Reward Status
Table 6.20: Basic Traits of KM Culture
Table 6.21: Corporates Priorities in KM Processes
Table 6.22: KM Tool Use in Indian Corporates KM System
Table 6.23: Corporates Strategy for Safety of Knowledge
Table 6.24: Community Practices for KM
Table 6.25: Strength of KM Team
Table 6.26: KM Roles of KM Team
Table 6.27: Team Fitness Structure in Organizations Hierarchy
Table 6.28: Barriers and Problems to KM Activities
Table 6.29: Problems in Use of KM Tools
Table 6.30: Knowledge Audit Methods
Table 6.31: Corporates Spending on KM System
Table 6.32: Spending on AMC of KM System
Table 6.33: Return on Investment (ROI)
Table 6.34: Short Term Benefits
Table 6.35 Long-Term Benefits of KM
Table 6.36: Types of Skills that Improved with KM Skills
Table 6.37: LIS Professionals views on Setting of KM System
Table 6.38: Employment of Library and Information Professionals for KM
Table 6.39: Corporate Awareness of KM skills of Library & Information Professionals
Table 6.40: KM Traits of Library and Information Professionals
Table 6.41: Opinion Regarding Retention of Library Professionals
Table 6.42: Corporate Perception of Skills of Library Professionals
Table 6.43: Corporate View on Knowledge Economy Era
Table 6.44: Corporates Views on Role of Knowledge
Table 6.45: Corporate views to Attract and Retain Skilled Workers
Table 6.46: Corporate View on Multigenerational Needs
Table 6.47: Corporate views on Transfer of Knowledge.
Table 6.48: Corporate View on Formal KM System
Table 6.49: Impact of KM System
Table 6.50: Training of Library Professionals by Corporates
Table 6.51: Corporate Views on Promotions to Library Professionals
Table 6.52: Corporate Response on Age of Employees
Table 6.53: Corporate View on Knowledge Acquisition Processes
Table 6.54: Corporate View on Knowledge Conversion Processes
Table 6.55: Corporate View on Knowledge Application Processes
Table 6.56: Corporate View on Knowledge Protection Processes
Table 6.57: Corporate View on Knowledge Sharing Processes
Table 6.58: Corporate Response regarding Organizational Culture
Table 6.59: Corporate Perspective on Use & Search of New Information about Products/Services
Table 6.60: Corporate View on Existing Business Operations and Processes
LIST OF FIGURES

Figure 1.1 China, India GDP Growth and Patent
Figure 6.1: Nature of Business Products of the Corporate Studied
Figure 6.2: Extent Re-use of Old Material by Corporate Studied
Figure 6.3: Dependence on Past Data Pattern
Figure 6.4: Tacit Knowledge in Staff of Corporates Studied
Figure 6.5: Environmental Hazard Uncertainty in Corporate Sector
Figure 6.6: Task-Inter-dependence in various sections of Corporate
Figure 6.7: Task Outcome uncertainty in Corporates
Figure 6.8: Predominant nature of knowledge in Corporate Respondents
Figure 6.9: Availability of Formal Knowledge Management System
Figure 6.10: Availability of IT based KM System
Figure 6.11: Corporate Benefit if it rely on the Skills and experience
Figure 6.12: Reasons for having Formal KM System
Figure 6.13 Tools used for Real Time access of Information
Figure 6.14 Bandwidth of existing Network
Figure 6.15: Goals to achieve through KM
Figure 6.16: Knowledge Sharing Culture in Corporates
Figure 6.17: Corporate Reward Method
Figure 6.18: Reward for New Thinking
Figure 6.19: Out of Box Thinking Reward Status
Figure 6.20: Basic Traits of KM Culture
Figure 6.21: Most Important KM processes
Figure 6.22: Corporate Strategy for Safety of Knowledge
Figure 6.23: Community Practices for KM
Figure 6.24: KM Team Strength
Figure 6.25: Team Fitness Structure in Corporates
Figure 6.26: Barriers and Problems to KM Activities
Figure 6.27: Problem in use of KM Tools
Figure 6.28: Knowledge Audit Methods
Figure 6.29: Corporate Spending on KM System
Figure 6.30: Spending on AMC of KM System
Figure 6.31: Use of KM Portal & Improvement in Skills
Figure 6.32: View in Setting up a KM System by LIS Professionals
Figure 6.33: Employment of Library and Information Professionals for KM
Figure 6.34: Corporate Awareness of KM skills of Library & Information Professionals
Figure 6.35: KM Traits of Library and Information Professionals in KM
Figure 6.36: Opinion regarding Retention of Library and Information Professionals
Figure 6.37: Corporate View on Knowledge Economy Era
Figure 6.38: Corporate View on Role of Knowledge
Figure 6.39: Corporates views to Attract and Retain skilled Workers
Figure 6.40: Corporate View on Multigenerational Needs
Figure 6.41: Corporate views on Transfer of Knowledge
Figure 6.42: Response regarding use of Formal KM System
Figure 6.43: Impact of KM System
Figure 6.44: Training of Library Professionals by Corporate
Figure 6.45: Corporate Views on Promotions to Library Professionals
Figure 6.46: Corporate response on Age of Employees
Figure 6.47: KM Professionals Level of Experience and Familiarity in KM
Table 6.61: Corporate View on Recording and Sharing Operating Procedure and Business Processes

Table 6.62: Skills and Ability of Employees

Table 6.63: Interaction of Employees in the Corporate Studied

Table 6.64: Corporate Priority of Work Responsibility of KM Staff

Table 6.65: Corporate Priority on KM Educational Programme

Table 6.66: Corporate Professionals Level of Experience and Familiarity with KM