ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Over the past three years, my life has undergone great changes. It taught me how to read and understand the philosophy of law. During this period, I have received a great amount of help and support from many people. I would like to take this opportunity to thank people who have helped and encouraged me during the past years to realize this PhD Thesis.

First and foremost I want to thank my esteemed supervisor, Dr. Nishtha Jaswal, Professor and Chairperson, Department of Laws, Panjab University, Chandigarh. It has been an honour to be her Ph. D student. Without her inspirational guidance, my doctorate wouldn’t have been started in the first place. I appreciate all her contributions to make my Ph.D experience explorative and productive. I am also thankful for the excellent example she has provided as a successful woman jurist and professor.

I would like to thank Dr. Paramjit Singh Jaswal, Professor, Department of Laws, Panjab University, Chandigarh, and presently the vice-chancellor of Rajiv Gandhi National University of Law, Patiala for his inspiration, support and motivation during the development of this thesis.

It’s my great privilege and honour to thank all the respected faculty members of the Department of Laws, Panjab University, Chandigarh, who made me feel like at home in the department and were kind enough to help me on several occasions during my research work through their valuable suggestions.

I express my gratitude to Dr. Kunwar Vijay Pratap Singh (IPS), DIG Ludhiana Range with additional charge of Cyber Crime, for actively encouraging me and for all the support he had provided during the course of this study. Kunwar sir really helped me in conducting my empirical research work. Thank you Sir.

I extend my thanks to all my friends and colleagues. I also want to mention about the special significance of stu-c (student center) in my life. It was really a place of solace for me, where I used to relish many cups of tea daily. Apart from this, Mr. Jodhu Ram made many cups of tea for me. I would also like to express my thanks to Mr. Hansraj, Mrs. Neelu, Mr. Raj Kumar, Mrs. Veena, Mr. Munish, Mrs. Nidhi, for helping me in the administrative work.

Very special thanks go to my parents, S. Gurmeet Singh and Sdn. Pritam Kaur, for their love, understanding and financial support during my research work. My Aunt and Uncle are my next parents. I just want to thank my brother, bhabiji, nephews yuvi n babloo, sisters, cousins and other family relatives for their inspirations.

LAKHWINDER SINGH