ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The most pleasurable aspect of writing a research work is the opportunity it provides to express gratitude to all the persons who have contributed their might and have been a source of encouragement and enlightenment.

Research work can neither move in a right direction nor come to any meaningful conclusion without proper expert guidance. I have been fortunate in getting patronage of Dr. Shruti Bedi, Assistant Professor, University Institute of Legal Studies, Panjab University, Chandigarh. Her deep insight into the problem solving capacity to conceptualise and erudite scholarship coupled with indefatigable fact finding zeal and unflagging patience not only made it possible to benefit from her helpful nurturing but also aroused in me a good habit of clear thinking as a researcher.

I express my sincere thanks to Prof. Ranbir Kaur Bhangi, Chairperson, Department of Laws, Panjab University, Chandigarh.

I owe a great debt to the Prof. Nishtha Jaswal, former Chairperson, Department of Laws, Panjab University, Chandigarh for her valuable guidance from time to time.

I am under special debt of gratitude for an assistance extended to me by my LL.M guide Prof. Vijay Nagpal, Professor, Department of Laws, Panjab University, Chandigarh who had been enriching me with scholarly suggestions and valuable comments.

I also wish to express my sincere gratitude to Prof. Paramjit Singh Jaswal, Vice Chancellor, Rajiv Gandhi National Law University, Patiala for sharing thought provoking knowledge right from the inception of my joining the Department of Laws, Panjab University, Chandigarh.

I further gratefully extend my special thanks to Prof. Mehraj U Din, Vice Chancellor (Off.), Central University of Kashmir, Srinagar for his generous and helpful advice.

I place on record my appreciation for the help extended to me by Prof. Shalini Marwaha, Prof. Paramjit Kaur, Prof. Devinder Singh, Dr. Rafiq
Ahmad Fareedi, Dr. Kewal Krishan, Dr. Ameer Sultana, Mr. Rakesh Mohindra and other faculty members of different Universities.

An ardent gratitude to my beloved parents for their care and support. I owe all my progress and achievements in life to them. They have remained a tower of strength for me always.

I am also indebted to the authors whose books, articles, and other works have been cited by me in different modes of this research work.

I am also thankful to all those respondents (including NGO's, Academicians, Civil Servants, Police, Media Personnel, Judges, Lawyers, Doctors, Students and General Public) who have contributed their intellect in my field research work.

It would be a remiss if I would not appreciate help extended to me by library staff of Department of Laws, Panjab University, Chandigarh, A. C. Joshi Library, Panjab University, Chandigarh, National Human Rights Commission, New Delhi, National Commission for Women, New Delhi, Indian Society of International Law, New Delhi, National Commission for the Protection of Child Rights, New Delhi, Apnejap Worldwide (NGO), New Delhi, Rajiv Gandhi National Law University, Patiala, Kashmir University, Srinagar, Delhi University, Delhi, and Jawaher Lal Nehru University, Delhi, for making available relevant material required for this research work.

Last but not least word of thanks goes to my siblings (Zahoor Bhat, Asmat Bhat, Tabasum Bhat, Dr. Shabir Noor, Mir Tahir Altaf, Dr. Irfan Yousf, Dr. Iqra Mehraj), friends (Aftab Jeelani Wani, Dr. Anna Bashir, Dr. Muzaffar Ali) and one cute nephew (Arsh Bhat) for their unconditional love and support during this research study.
