Acknowledgement

This dissertation would not have been a real fulfillment without the backing and co-operation from various individuals through various means. I owe my deepest gratitude to my guide, Dr. Urmi Kessar. I have known you as a broadly skilled professor whose encouragement, supervision and support led me from the preliminary to the concluding level and enabled me develop an understanding of the subject. I take pride in our joint effort to achieve this goal.

I am indebted to the University Grants Commission for providing me the Research Fellowship (JRF and SRF) without which the carrying out of an extensive fieldwork would have been difficult.

I thank all the Heads/Principals, teachers and students of the various colleges of art and other institutions who spared time for providing me an insight into the art educational practices. In particular I wish to thank Late Shri B.C Sanyal who gave me primary information on the art scene and art education practices in pre partition Panjab and helped me corroborate much useful information regarding Mayo School of Art, Lahore despite his ill health.

I am very grateful to Late Shri P.N Mago for providing me useful criticism and advice as also to provide relevant material for this purpose. Also I owe my gratitude to Amba Sanyal for permitting me extensive use of a great deal of archival material pertaining to life and works of Shri B.C Sanyal at his residence in New Delhi. Also I wish to thank Dr. R. P Srivastava for giving me valuable information about art and artists in pre partition Punjab and Dr. Nadeem Omar Tarar, Faculty Communication and Cultural Studies, National College of Arts, Lahore for providing me much useful leads as regards art education practices in the Mayo School of Art, Lahore.

I am greatly indebted to Dr. Rajinder Bhandari, Chairman, Department of Art History and Visual Arts, Panjab University, Chandigarh and Dr. Jagtej Grewal for their support and help. Also I thank the members of library staff at Lalit Kala Academy, Reference Library Rabindra Bhavan, New Delhi, National Gallery of Modern Art, Reference Library, New Delhi, Government Museum Reference Library, Chandigarh, All India Fine-Arts and Crafts Society, Reference Library, New Delhi and Government College of Art, Chandigarh as they some times kindly waived their normal restrictions to meet my requests.

My special thanks are due to my husband for helping me fetch useful digital information and prepare the typescript and my in laws family for taking care of my son during the final stages of my work. I have found real pleasure in my work and I thank all the artists, teachers and academicians whom I met, for their openness, friendship and hospitality.

\[signature\]