ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

This work would not have been completed with confidence and on right lines, without the valuable guidance of Dr. Surendra Thakurdesai. It was no doubt a hard task to write and rewrite and go on revising things for quite a long time. But it has, no doubt, proved to be very paying to me. If I say that I am very sincerely thankful to him, it should not be taken just as a formality.

My thanks are also due to Dr. Yargop, Head, Department of Geography, Tilak Maharashtra Vidyapeeth, Pune, and the staff of the Tilak Maharashtra Vidyapeeth, Pune, Dr. Mali, Principal, Dr. B.N. Purandare, Arts and S.S.G.G. Commerce and Science College, Lonavla and the staff of Dr. B.N. Purandare Arts and S.S.G.G. Commerce and Science College, Lonavla, Dr. Vaidya, Head, Department of Geography, University of Pune, Dr. Karlekar, Head, Department of Geography, S.P. College Pune and Dr. Kulkarni, Department of Commerce, Modern College, Pune, for the facilities they provided to me for reading and references.

I am also thankful to the staff of the co-operative societies of the fishermen, the staff of the Indian Meteorological Department (IMD), Pune, the staff of the fisheries departments at Alibag and Mumbai who provided me information on the various aspects of the coastal region and the fishing settlements.

Let me further thank my family members and Mr. R.S. Kolapkar, Mrs. Panahale and Mr. N. A. Kale for doing neat and clean typing work in a very short period.
