ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

One has to travel a long time arduous road to accomplish the objective of successfully bringing out a Ph.D. thesis. Like a torchbearer of the relay team one has to rely on the able guidance and assistance of a number of willing and steadfast folks.

The one single person whose contribution towards the consummation of the project can never be adequately paid back in any manner is, of course, my guide Dr. R.K. Sapru. He undoubtedly acted as my friend, guide and philosopher. I concede in all humility and with a profound sense of gratitude that but for his generous help and valuable guidance, I would never have made it to the last phase of my research work. My guide’s ceaseless supervision and painstaking endeavor has been a source of constant inspiration to me. I have experienced a rare combination of a profound scientist of human behavior, energetic teacher and an affectionate considerable individual.

I would like to place in record my deep sense of appreciation to Professor S.P. Singh, Chairman, University of Business School, Dr. B.S. Ghuman, Chairman, Department of Public Administration and to all members of teaching staff of Public Administration Department, Panjab University Chandigarh.
Shri. R.K. Ranga IAS, Senior Regional Manager FCI Haryana played quite a significant role in helping me to shape up and round off my project through incisive and penetrating insights. Besides Shri P.R. Sharma, Assistant Manager(IR) FCI Regional Office timely guidance and encouragement made it possible to overcome certain obstacles in my way. I am therefore, much beholden to both of them.

My wife Mrs. Anita Mehta spurred me on to resume my research work whenever the flame flickered within me and how can I leave out my daughters Vidhu and Nidhi while reconciling the debt of gratitude. They too contributed towards my progress through an intuitive understanding and perception.

I also owe my debt of gratitude to my sincere friend Shri. Babu for his inspiration, constant help and who has always been a source of strength to me in completion of this work. It is irresistible for me to exclude friends like Shri. Raghunath Dass being one of them who never failed to pursue my work and offer his gems of wisdom various spots in my thesis and Shri. S.C. Gaba, Singla, Baldev, S.K. Sharma, K.K. Bhandari, Narinder Kumar, Shiv Dayal and Harbhajan Singh, who helped me a lot in the completion of this research work.

At this juncture, my own eldest brother in law late Colonel V.M. Dutta stands out brilliantly in my mind as it was he whose words of cheer and encouragement ever prompted me to proceed towards my goal with a strong will and determination.
Professor R.N. Mehta's occasional guidance stood me in good stead. He too, deserves my thanks and gratitude at this moment.

My deepest gratitude and heartfelt thanks are also due to my dearest parents and late father-in-law Shri J.K. Dutta and all the members of family who have always been a source of inspiration and who have kept me in high spirits all the time.

In spite of all the words framed above, I must disclose that I am conscious of my limitations and feel touched with a sense of humility while presenting my research work. My efforts don't boast of excellence and high merit, It's only a modest endeavor, after all. However, whatever shortcomings might have been, I accept with all humility to be solely my own.

"Karman yevadikarastte ma phalesu kadachan.

Ma karmaphalhetur bhur ma te sango stv akarmani"

"Karmany eva dhikaras te ma phalesu kada cana ma karmaphalahetur bhur ma te sango stv akarmani”

To action alone hast thou a right and never at all to its fruits; let not the fruits of action be thy motive; neither let there be in thee any attachment to inaction

INSPIRATION FROM LORD GANESHEE

BIG HEAD : Inspires us to think big and think profitably.

BIG EARS : Prompt us to listen patiently to new ideas and suggestions.

NARROW EYES : Point to deep concentration needed to finish tasks in hand well and quickly.

LONG NOSE : Tells us to poke around inquisitively to learn more.

SMALL MOUTH : Reminds us to speak less and listen more.
