ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I sincerely wish to express my deep debt of gratitude to my supervisor and guide, Dr. R. Thandavan, M.A. (Hons.), M.A. (Pol. Sc.), D.P.M., M.Phil., Ph.D., Professor and Head, Anna Centre for Public Affairs, University of Madras, Chennai-600 005, whose able and efficient guidance, constant encouragement, generous help and immense interest has enabled me to complete this thesis. It is very difficult to put down in mere words the amount of effort taken by him in being a source of inspiration all through my research.

I place in record my thanks to Dr. G. Krishnamoorthy, Senior Lecturer and Dr. P. Ravishankar, Lecturer in Anna Centre for Public Affairs, University of Madras, for their advice given throughout my study.

I sincerely wish to thank Mr. S. Ramesh, Assistant Section Officer, Anna Centre for Public Affairs, University of Madras, for his help and support to me.

I also thank the Librarians of Madras University Library, Tamil Nadu Legislative Assembly Library, Connemara Public Library, United States Information Service Library, Madras Institute of Development Studies, Madras, and the Library of the Indian Institute of Public Administration, New Delhi, for their help and cooperation in collecting the data.
I would also like to thank the University Grants Commission for granting me the Junior Research Fellowship in order to enable me to pursue my research.

And I wish to thank my parents and friends, who morally supported me throughout my research study, and also several others who wish to remain incognito.
