ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Today, my dream of completing Ph.D. has materialized with the co-operation and help, a great deal of thought and efforts of many people in many ways. It is neither possible nor sufficient to acknowledge them in this formal manner with a few words.

First and foremost, I express my profound gratitude to my supervisor Dr. S. Madheswaran under whose able guidance this work has been carried out. His helpful criticism, suggestions, meticulous reading, constant encouragement and moral support made it possible for me to complete the thesis. I am grateful to him forever.

I would like to express my sincere thanks to my Doctoral Committee members Prof. M.R. Narayana and Dr. K. Gayithri of ISEC, for their concern, for sparing their valuable time and going through the initial drafts of my thesis, providing valuable suggestions and moral supports to me throughout my research work. I sincerely acknowledge their efforts.

I am grateful to the previous directors, Prof. M. Govinda Rao and Prof. Gopal K. Kadekodi and the present director Prof. N. Jayaram of the Institute for Social and Economic Change (ISEC), for their support and encouragement.

I am deeply indebted to the United Nations University – World Institute for Development Economics Research (UNU-WIDER), Finland, for selecting me and providing an opportunity to pursue my doctoral studies as a Ph.D. intern. I express my sincere gratitude to my supervisor at WIDER, Prof. Basudeb Guha-Khasnobi for his constant encouragement and thoughtful suggestions in pursuing my research work. I am thankful to all the faculty members of WIDER especially to the director of UNU-WIDER, Prof. Tony Shorrocks for providing me a conducive atmosphere for academic research.

My sincere thanks to Dr. Peter Pedroni, Associate professor, Williams College, USA, Dr. Hailin Liao, Loughborough University, UK, Dr. Mita Bhattacharya, Monash University, Australia and Prof. Paresh Kumar Narayan, Griffith Business School, Australia, for their help in the quantitative analysis of this thesis.

I also sincerely acknowledge the valuable comments and suggestions of Prof. Ravi Kanbur, Prof. Abdul Aziz, Prof. Shashank Bhide, Prof. M. Ramachandran, Ms. B. P. Vani, Assistant Professor, ISEC, Prof. K. L. Krishna, Prof. N. S. S. Narayana, Prof. B. B. Bhattacharya, Prof. Arup Mitra, Prof. B. N. Goldar, Prof. K. P. Kalirajan, Prof. Subhash C. Ray, Prof. T. Krishna Kumar, Prof. Sugata Marjit, Prof. Alakh N. Sharma, Prof. R. Nagaraj, Prof. B. Kamaiah, my M.Phil supervisor late Prof. V. B. N. S. Madduri, Prof. Chetan Ghate, Dr. Sunil Kumar of Punjab School of Economics, Dr. Shanmugam and Dr. Vinish Kathuria of Madras School of Economics, Dr. Shashi Kumar of V.V.Giri National Labour Institute, New Delhi and Dr. K. V. Ramaswamy of IGIDR, Mumbai.
My sincere gratitudes are due to Prof. G. K. Karanth, late Prof. Hemalata Rao, Prof. R. S. Deshpande, Prof. S. N. Sangita, Prof. K. V. Raju, Prof. D. Rajasekhar, Prof. K. N. Ninan, Dr. Meenakshi Rajeev, Dr. Mahadeva, Dr. Venkatachalam, Dr. K. G. Gayathri Devi, Dr. Madhushree Sekhar, Dr. M. D. Usha Devi and Dr. Anand Inbanathan for their encouragement and help during the course of all my bi­annual progress seminars in ISEC. I am also thankful to other faculty members of ISEC for their encouragements.

My special thanks to Mr. K. S. Narayana for helping me in the editorial work and needful support for this thesis at different stages.

I acknowledge the assistance received from Mr. Krishna Chandran, and Mr. Satish Kamat in the computer center and the staff of the Library of ISEC especially Mr. Sharma, Mrs. Lila, Kalyanappa, Suresh and Rudresh. I am also thankful to Santa Madam and Margaret Madam for all the supports they extended.

Further, I express my sincere gratitude to the University of Mysore, faculty members at Department of Economics and staff for allowing me to register for Ph.D. and their valuable suggestions and kind cooperation.

I take this opportunity to express thanks to my seniors, Ramakrushna, Bhanumurthy, Gagan, Satya, Pratyusna, Sitakanta, Pravakar, Amalendu, Dukhi, Purna, Subodh, Pratap, Prabir, Chakara, Ashish, Tripati Rao, Hrushi, Kshama, Ranjan, Lija, Satyasiba, Venugopal, Pratibha, Anand, Santosh and Emil. Friends have been an important part in my life and without their support and help, it would have been difficult on my part to complete this work. I take this opportunity to thank my friends Sachi, Shankara, Janardhan, Prashobh, Sukumaran, Mahesh, Somsekhar, Bikash, Nisha, Anita, Geetu, Sarala, Sarbani, Subir, Tunga, Krushna, Bibhi, Manoj, Prabhu, G. Badri Narayanar, Bettappa, Aruna, Skylab, Pradeep, Moinak, Ananta, Manjula, Jaga, Akshya, Deepak and others for their kind help at different points of time. My special thanks to Amma and Madam (Mrs. Madheswaran) for their concern and care.

I am deeply indebted to my parents, brother Bishnu, relatives and my best friend Poulomi who have all along given me the confidence, moral support and constant inspiration in my academic pursuits.

Badri Narayan Rath