

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

My most sincere gratitude^{goes} to my supervisor, Dr. Ch. Sheelaramani, Associate Professor, Department of English, D.M College of Arts, Imphal, who has introduced me to this new area of research. Her understanding, encouraging and personal guidance has been a remarkable influence for this study.

I must also express my deep gratitude to Dr. Karl-Heinz Gruessner, Tuebingen University Library, Germany. His unflinching support and assistance in providing me with the much needed materials and books help me complete the present work.

I wish to express my warm and sincere thanks to Dr. Mark Bender, Associate Professor of East Asian Languages and Literatures, The Ohio State University, whose letters and discussions gave me important guidance.

I owe my gratitude to Dr. Ulrich Marzolph, Professor of Islamic Studies, Georg-August-University, Göttingen & Enzyklopädie des Märchens, who is always ready to share his ideas and knowledge. His letters and thinking have been of great value for me.

My sincere thanks are due to Prof. Mani Meitei, Head of English Department, Manipur University, for his support and advice during my research.

I gratefully acknowledge the help and assistance from all the staff of The American Library, Kolkata and Osmania University Centre for International Programmes, Hyderabad.

I am grateful to LTL Library, Aizawl for providing me with the books and manuscripts important for my research work.

My sincere thanks to the Mizo writers Lalzuia Colney, Aizawl and Lalthangfala Sailo, Aizawl, who had graciously obliged to be interviewed and whose logical thinking and wide knowledge in the field of Mizo literature have provided a good basis for the present study.

During my field work, I have collaborated with many people for whom I have great regard and I wish to express my gratitude to all those who have helped me in my work.

I also wish to thank all the faculty members of the Department of English, Manipur University for the help and support they have rendered to me.

I owe my loving thanks to my husband, Hanson L.Varte and my sons Reuben and David. They have missed the company and warmth of a mother many a time due to my research which often kept me away from home. Without their encouragement and understanding it would have been impossible for me to finish this work.
