Acknowledgement

This thesis has been kept on track and been seen through to completion with the support and encouragement of numerous people including my well wishers, my friends, colleagues and various institutions. At the end of my thesis, it is a pleasant task to express my thanks to all those who contributed in many ways to the success of this study and made it an unforgettable experience for me.

First and foremost I thank my guide Prof. R. S. Kusurkar for accepting me as her student. It is difficult to overstate my gratitude towards her. Her guidance has helped me grow as a researcher. With her enthusiasm, inspiration, and her great efforts to explain things clearly and simply, she helped to make research easy for me. Throughout my research period, she provided encouragement, sound advice, good teaching, good company, lots of good ideas, and insightful discussions about the research. I would have been lost without her.

My co-guide, Dr. A. K. Sikder has been a person from whom I have learnt the vital skill of disciplined critical thinking. His forensic scrutiny of my research and thesis has been invaluable. He has always found the time to propose consistently excellent improvements. He has supported me throughout my research work with his patience and knowledge whilst allowing me the room to work in my own way. I owe a great debt of gratitude towards him.

I thank Director, HEMRL for permitting me to pursue education while working and for allowing me to use the facilities of the institution. I also thank Dr. Nirmala Sikder for her encouragement and support and for permitting me access to all the required facilities.

I am grateful to Prof. D. D. Dhavale, Head of Chemistry Department, for providing the necessary infrastructure and instrumentation and also for his guidance. I also thank all the ex-heads for their support. Some faculty members have been very kind enough to extend their help at various phases of this research whenever I approached them, and I do hereby acknowledge all of them. Prof. Sabharwal, Dr. V. S. Shinde, Dr. Waghmode, Dr. Kodam, Dr. Nikalje, Dhatrak Sir, are some of them. Dr. U. R. Kalkote and Dr. S. P. Chavan from NCL deserve a special mention here for their unadulterated help and encouragement. Thank you sir!!

During my daily work I was surrounded by people with lots of enthusiasm and optimism. I am indebted to my lab mates Neelam, Nabil, Hingane Sir, Sagar, Shrikar, Abdullah, Aadil, Deepali, Nikita, Monali and Tukaram for providing a stimulating and fun filled environment during my long journey. A special thanks to Tukaram for his genuine help during my work. I also thank my other friends Ravindra Shinde, Deeksha, Shashi, Viraj, Kishore, Yunus, Mahadev, Ajit, Aniruddha, Munna, Mahendra, Manoj, Datta, Mahaveer, Vivek, Rajendra, Roopa, Varsha, Jyoti, Balaji,

I have been very much privileged to be surrounded by wonderful people at my workplace. The contribution of my colleagues Suman madam, Mrinal, Radhakrishnan, P. M. Jadhav, R. S. Patil, Vijayalakshmi, Mrs. Sonawane, Amitesh, Abhay, Bulakh, Mr. Wani, Parikshit, Mr. and Mrs. Patil has been tremendous in the completion of my Ph.D. and I am truly thankful to them for their support and help. My seniors Gore sir, Mhase sir, Polke sir, Javaid Sir, Talavar sir have also been equally supportive for which I am indebted to them.

I especially thank my mother, brothers, sisters and their families. My hard-working family has sacrificed their lives for me and provided unconditional love and care. They have given up many things for me to be where I am; they have cherished with me every great moment and supported me whenever I needed it. I thank them from the bottom of my heart. The patience and understanding shown by my mother-in-law and father-in-law is also greatly appreciated. I thank my nephew Viraj for his comments, help and guidance throughout these years. My son ‘Rajanya’ also deserves to be acknowledged for his unknowing support and love which helped me forget my stress after I reached home. I doubt that I will ever be able to convey my appreciation fully, but I owe my eternal gratitude to my family.

My non-academic friends, who are a part of my family, have been very crucial in the completion of my thesis. The role of Dr. Dilip and Dr. Shraddha Jarikote has been fundamental in the realization of this thesis though they are always in a denial mode. Anand, Suraj, Rakesh, Amit, Gajanan, Amol, Harshad have also played a constructive role in keeping the environment cheerful which in turn helped to boost my morale. Words fail me to express my appreciation towards all of them.

Finally, but most importantly, I wish to thank my wife, Prajakta, for her patience, assistance, support and faith in me. She was always beside me in the moments when there was no one to answer my queries. She was always there during the happy and hard moments to push me and motivate me. I can see the good shape of my thesis because of her help and suggestions during the whole process. A journey is easier when you travel together. My journey all these years has been pleasant and wonderful due to her presence in my life. I could not have completed my research without her!! I owe everything to her!!

Besides this, several people have knowingly and unknowingly helped me in the successful completion of my Ph.D. I thank all of them and apologize to all those, whose name could not be included here.

I also ask for forgiveness for any mistakes in the draft of this thesis and am solely responsible for any errors.
