Acknowledgement

This thesis is mainly the result of the valuable guidance provided by my guide Dr Vibhuti Patel. Her openness, easy accessibility and alacrity in giving critical feedback/ comments on the drafts sent by me have motivated me to complete this research. I am indeed grateful to her for all the support, guidance, passion and understanding in converting me into a researcher.

I would also like to appreciate and thank Smt. Sumati Kulkarni, IIPS, for taking out valuable time to discuss my thesis at the proposal stage and have greatly benefited from her domain knowledge and useful insights.

I am grateful to Mr. Arvinder Sachdeva, Director, Planning Commission, New Delhi, a virtual data bank, who not only shared data resources but also spent considerable time for fruitful discussions on the topic. I am deeply indebted to a friend who apart from being my moral support and inspiration, helped me with material, discussions and clarifications.

“All for one and one for all”; my two daughters, Nivedita and Aparajita, remain a continuous source of strength and support to me.

While acknowledging all these support and contributions, all the remaining shortcomings and limitations are mine.
