A NOTE ON THE USE OF NON-ENGLISH WORDS

Underlining of the non-English words (i.e. chiefly Sanskrit, Prakrit and Pali) have generally been avoided for two reasons:

i. If underlined, many of the diacritical marks may go under the line, e.g. Krsna, trsna, drsti, Adrsta etc.

ii. Since they occur very frequently in some pages, if all of them are underlined, it may inconvenience the smooth reading, causing strain for the eyes.

However all care will be taken to italicize the non-English words if and when there comes a need to publish this work.

Another thing to be noted is that the references are given at the end of each chapter for the sake of convenience in typing, since this also is an accepted form, instead of foot notes.
