ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I cherish this work for the learning it gave me and I am indebted to many who helped me in the process.

In the maze of approaches, concepts and theories, I would have been a lost soul, if not for the continuous and consistent guidance of my supervising guide Dr. H. S. Cheema. His profound knowledge and varied perspectives. The innumerable sessions of patient hearing and advice, I am forever indebted to him. I hope the fruition of this study would be the best guru dakshina I can offer him.

Dr. H. S. Cheema is a down to earth realist had been a pillar of support throughout my study. His encouragement and motivation had been the proverbial elixir of life when many a time I was running out of juice and slowing in the race. Dr. H. S. Cheema, my mentor, whose satire and sarcasm kept me thinking. He has a strange method for motivating people.

Dr. Reecha Singh with all the limitations of her chair, stood by me and gave sane counsel.

To my parents Mr. Vasant Chavan and Mrs. Vandana Chavan, this was their dream. Indebted, I am, to them, for teaching me all the lessons in life to become this able, and in particular, that lesson that I shall never cease to be a learner.

My PhD group members Ms. Smita Patel, Mr. Hemant Kagra, Mr. Casseem Rajbali, Mr. Subroto Chatterjee and Mr. S. Balasubramanian from Numero Uno PhD group, for their continuous motivation. Amongst them I am indeed thankful to Mr. S. Balasubramanian for his continuous value addition and kind support which made this thesis a quality work.

My Husband Uday who came in my life during this journey and became my strength and my weakness. My best friend Meghna who made this research possibility for me. She visited every retail outlet with me and made my research nice experience. These are my nearest and dearest who has gone through every trough and crest of my study, not in its content, nor in their heads, but in their hearts and in their minds. To them my love and my return from this journey.

My sister Shweta for helping in making this journey simpler. Because of her support this study became cake walk. Her continuous motivation made me think that “Yes! I can do it”
My family members and friends; Tai, Mai, Bhaoji, Jiju, Rakesh Jiju, Aai, Papa, Sachin, Priyanka, and Dipu. I always feel inadequate acknowledging them for the part they have played in my life, this study being only a part of it.

All my colleagues from KCIMS and JJTU deserve a mention being there for me. To the staff of library, and particularly Prof. Shashi Gupta and Dr. Shubhada Joshi, for the good turns they have done for me, I thank them.

I am happy to record that students whom I taught were always been a source of inspiration to me in my academic arena and take this opportunity to thank them all for the love and affection they showered on me.

Above all, I praise the lord without whose invisible hand above my head, I am nothing at all.

Ms. Sneha Vasant Chavan
