ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The research work presented in the Thesis was carried out under the able and inspiring guidance of Prof. M.R. Kumbhar, Professor and Head, Department of Library and Information Science, Karnataka University, Dharwad. I am deeply indebted to him for his encouragement.

I am also thankful to Prof. K. S. Deshpande, Librarian, Karnataka University Library, Dharwad, who, in spite of his busy schedule, spared time to go through the work and made valuable suggestions. I am grateful to him for the same.

I am equally grateful to Prof. P. K. Patil, Librarian and Head, Department of Library and Information Science, University of Mysore, Mysore (erstwhile State Librarian, State Central Library, Bangalore) for providing facilities for collecting the necessary statistical data and other information from the various libraries under the Department of Public Libraries, Government of Karnataka.

I am thankful to the Deputy Librarian, State Central Library, the Chief Librarians and their staff in the various City Central Libraries and District Central Libraries for their cooperation in providing the necessary information in compiling this Thesis.

I am thankful to Dr. B. Shivamurthy, Reader, Department of Statistics, Karnatak University, Dharwad, in assisting me to arrive at the population projections for the years 1991 and 2001, in Karnataka.

Shri N. V. Vallisha, System Analyst, and Shri B. M. Harihar, Programmer of the Karnatak University Computer Centre, rendered great help in analysing the data collected on the computer. I thank them sincerely for their help.

I am thankful to Shri F. Y. Yavagal, Lecturer, Department of Geography, Karnatak University, Dharwad, for his help in preparing the various charts and the map of Karnataka.

I am particularly thankful to Shri S. H. Chandanagoudar, Chief Librarian, CUL, Hubli-Dharwad, for taking pains to go through the manuscript and the typescript of the Thesis.

I am thankful to Sjt. B. B. Hungund and B. V. Rajasekhar, Lecturers, Department of Library and Information Science and the staff of the Karnatak University Library, Dharwad, for their help and cooperation in compiling the Thesis.

There are many others who have rendered me help and assistance directly and indirectly in the course of my research work. I am grateful to all of them.
