A SELECT BIBLIOGRAPHY

Note: 1. The bibliography has been divided into two parts: books and reports; and articles/features in periodicals.

2. The publication data of the entries have been furnished as completely and accurately as possible.

3. Unless there are compelling considerations to the contrary, "all through" principle has been followed in arranging the entries.

4. Titles of books, reports etc. are not underlined or italicised. They stand out obviously and occur at the beginning of each entry or immediately after the name/s of author/s. The explanatory particulars as to the place of publication, publisher, year of publication etc. are suitably grouped in the brackets following the titles of the books, reports etc.

I. Books and Reports

Aggarwal, A.P., Gherao and industrial relations (Bombay: N.M. Tripathi, 1968).

Agnihotri, V., Industrial relations in India (Delhi: Atma Ram and Sons, 1970).

AIIUC, Problems of industrial relations (New Delhi: All India Trade Union Congress, 1969).

Bogaert, M.V., Trade unionism in Indian ports: a case study of Calcutta and Bombay (New Delhi: Shri Ram Centre for Industrial Relations, 1970).

Bombay Labour Institute, Trade unions in Maharashtra (a basic survey 1967-69) (Bombay: The Institute, 1971).

Crouch, H., Trade unions and politics in India (Bombay: Nankitala, 1966).

Dayal, I., Sharma, B.R., Management of trade unions (New Delhi: Shri Ram Centre for Industrial Relations, 1976).

Dayal, I., Sharma, B.R., Strike of supervisory staff in the State Bank of India (Bombay: Progressive Corporation, 1971).
Dhyani, S.N., Trade unions and the right to strike (Delhi: S.Chand and Co., 1970).

General Secretary, Report of the fifth conference of all Hyderabad trade union congress (Hyderabad: All India Trade Union Congress Office, 1973), p.5.

Giri, V.V., Labour problems in Indian industry (Bombay: Asia Publishing House, 1972), p.27.

Govel, R.C., Problems in personnel and industrial relations in India (Delhi: National Publishing House, 1971).

Government of India, National Commission on Labour, Report of the study group on industrial relations, 4 vols.
1. Eastern region;
2. Northern region;
3. Southern region;
4. Western region;
(Delhi: Manager of Publications, 1968).

Government of India, National Commission on Labour, Reports of the study groups (on the):
1. Air Transport Industry, 1968;
2. Banking Industry, 1968;
3. Coal, 1968;
5. Fertilisers, 1968;
7. Heavy Chemicals, 1968;
8. Heavy Engineering, 1969;
10. Jute, 1968;
11. Newspaper Industry, 1968;
12. Oil Refining and Distribution, 1968;
14. Plantations (Coffee/Rubber), 1968;
15. Plantations (Tea), 1969;
16. Ports and Docks, 1968;
17. Rail Transport, 1968;

Government of India, Working of the Indian trade union

Great Britain, Commission on Industrial Relations,
Employee relations in the smaller firm: a practical guide for employers (London: Her Majesty's Stationery Office, 1974).

Great Britain, Commission on Industrial Relations,
Small firms and the code of industrial relations
practice (London: Her Majesty's Stationery Office, 1974).

Great Britain, Department of Employment, Reform of collective bargaining at plant and company level

Great Britain, Ministry of Labour, Industrial relations
handbook (London: Her Majesty's Stationery Office, 1959).

Hare, A.E.C., First principles of industrial relations

for the year 1351 Fasli (Hyderabad: Government Central Press, 1945), pp. 81 and 92.

Hemingway, J., Conflict and democracy: studies in trade

Indian Engineering Association, Northern Region, Guide on industrial relations (New Delhi: The Association, 1972).

Industrial Relations Association of India, Right to strike and lockout (Hyderabad: The Association, 1978).

Karnik, V.B., Strikes in India (Bombay: Manektales, 1967).

Kennedy, Van Dusen, Union, employers and government: essays on Indian labour questions (Bombay: Manektales, 1966), p.218.

Kher, V.B., Indian trade union law (Bombay: N.M.Tripathi, 1954).

Kulkarni, S.R., Industrial relations in the seventies (Hyderabad: Administrative Staff College of India, 1975).

Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development,
Recent trends in collective bargaining: international management seminar, final report (Paris: The

Pandey, S.M., Government employees' strike: study in white collar unionism in India (Meerut: Meenakshi Prakashan, 1969).

Pandey, S.M., Labour organised: a study of unionism in the Kanpur cotton textile industry (New Delhi: Shri Ram Centre for Industrial Relations, 1970).

Ferrow, Charles, The effect of technological change on the structure of business firms in industrial relations:

Prasad, Lallan, Personnel management and industrial relations in public sector (Bombay: Progressive Corporation,

Punekar, S.D., Industrial peace in India: the problem and its solution (Bombay: Vora and Co., 1952).

Punekar, S.D., Madhuri, S., Trade union leadership in India:

Punekar, S.D., Saval, M.G., Management and white collar relations (Bombay: Popular Prakashan, 1969).

Ramaswamy, E.A., Worker and his union: a study in South

Reindorp, J., Leaders and leadership in the trade unions in Bangalore (Bangalore: Christian Institute for the Study of Religion and Society, 1971).

Tandon, B.K., Collective bargaining and the Indian scene (Delhi: S.Chand and Co., 1972).

Thakur, C.P., Munson, P.C., Industrial relations in printing industry (New Delhi: Shri Ram Centre for Industrial Relations, 1969).

Tulpule, B., Amidst heat and noise: Durgapur recalled (Delhi: All India Management Association, 1977).

Vaid, K.N., Contours of labour policy (New Delhi: Shri Ram Centre for Industrial Relations, 1965).

Vaid, K.N., Cereals and labour unrest in West Bengal (New Delhi: Shri Ram Centre for Industrial Relations, 1972).
Vaid, K.N., Trade unions in India (New Delhi: Shri Ram Centre for Industrial Relations, 1965).

II. Articles/features in periodicals

"The case for labour," (Balraj Mehta), Indian Express (Hyderabad edition), 1 February 1980.