ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I deem it my duty to place on record my grateful thanks to all those who have directly and indirectly helped me in successfully completing this thesis. While I sit to recollect the most important amongst them, a large number of intellectuals, academicians and centres of higher learning come to crowd my memory. It is indeed very difficult to reasonably evaluate the help and assistance rendered by them. And moreover, many of them wish to remain anonymous. But, academic decency demands that I mention at least a few names which stand out very much near and dear.

To mention only a few to whom I owe a special debt of gratitude, I must begin with Dr. B.M.Wali, under whose able guidance and supervision the present research was carried out, and for whose help that transcended the confines of the norms of his accredited duties, I am deeply indebted. And had it not been for his stimulating guidance and constant encouragement, I would not have completed the task in time. I owe to him all my unqualified gratitude.

Words are powerless to express my sense of sincere thanks and indebtedness to my beloved teacher Dr. B. Sheshadri, Reader, A.S.M. College for women, Bellary, who was kind enough to give me the much needed direction, besides exposing me to the subtler aspects of research in monetary economics. I cannot but remain ever grateful to him for his invaluable guidance and useful suggestions throughout the course of my work.

I had the rare privilege of getting the kind counsel of the distinguished and erudite academics of Bombay University, Mysore University, the Institute for Financial Management and Research, Madras, the National Institute of Rural Development, Hyderabad, Osmania University, Hyderabad, Particularly of Dr. De Costa, Dr. Amarchand, Dr. C.P.S. Nayar, Dr. Santhanam and Dr. Subramanyam. I am deeply indebted to them.

Dr. Abdul Aziz of the Institute for Social and Economic change, Bangalore, and his academic associate Dr. R.S. Deshpande of the Gokhale Institute of Economics and Politics, Pune, besides acquainting me with the finer aspects of research methodology, did instil in me the much needed confidence, particularly at times when it threatened to desert me. I thank them very sincerely.

I shall ever remain indebted to Shri. K. Basavana Goud, Administrative Officer, Vijayanagar Engineering College, Bellary, Shri. P. Gujjarsappa, Principal, A.S.M. College for Women, Bellary, Mr. K. Mallikarjuna Goud, V.S. Law College, Bellary and Mr. A. Rudra Goud, Accounts Officer, Hatti Cold Hires Co.
Ltd., Hatti, for their unreserved help and unstinted encouragement throughout this work.

My grateful thanks are due to Dr. H. Basanna, Principal, Vijayanagar College, Hospet and Prof. N. Eshwarappa, Principal Veerasaiva College, Bellary, for their timely help and assistance.

My well-wishers and Research colleagues, Mr. Shylendra and Mr. Rajashekar of ISEC; and Prof. F.C. Hosur, Dr. K. Eresi and Mr. Deviprasad of K.U.D., richly deserve my thanks for their continual encouragement and assistance. I am highly indebted to them.

I take this opportunity to express my heartfelt thanks to my teachers of K.U.D. and my teachers and colleagues of Veerasaiva College, Bellary, for their help and encouragement.

They really did a wonderful job for which I can only say a

The other gentlemen who helped me in the collection of data are Mr. Kere Mallikarjuna, Mr. K. Ramesh, Mr. K. Thrivikram Acharya, Mr. Sontha Suresh, Mr. Sreenivas and Mr. M. Muppanna. I am ever grateful to them.

I must say with all sincerity that had it not been for the assistance I received from the Librarians of the libraries of Karnatak University, Bombay University, Madras University, Mysore University, ISEC, RBI, ICSSR, IFMR, Veerasaiva College, my present work would not have acquired the academic authenticity which it has now. I thank all of them and their staff very sincerely.

It is my duty to express my thanks to the University Grants Commission for providing me one-year fellowship and to the Management of Veerasaiva Vidhyavardhak Sangha for sponsoring my name and providing me an opportunity to work for my Ph.D.
My sincere thanks are due to Mr. G.K. Siva Prasad, Bellary, for doing the important job of typing the thesis well in time.
