ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

My reverence to Almighty God for his mercy on me for enabling me to undertake such research and for bestowing me with good health throughout the period of this study.

No doubt, the main source of inspiration and encouragement during my course work as well as investigation, lies in the most cordial assistance and dynamic guidance given by my guide Dr. S.V. Hittalmani, Professor, Department of Anthropology, Karnataka University, Dharwad to whom I freely acknowledge. I consider myself fortunate to carry out research under his untiring guidance, utmost patience, constructive suggestions and keen interest throughout my research work.

I am also thankful to Professor C.G. Hussain Khan and other staff members of the Department of Anthropology, Karnataka University, Dharwad, for their co-operation extended throughout the course of my research work.

I am highly thankful to the authorities of the Department of Women and Child Welfare, Government of Karnataka, Bangalore, without who's permission this work would not have been possible. I extend my sincere thanks to the Program Officer, Mr. M.V. Jayaram and to all the staff of CDPO Office, Periyapatna taluk, Mysore. I am very grateful and thankful to all the Anganwadi Workers and respondents for their co-operation and participation, being the basic foundation for my research work.

I cannot appropriately acknowledge in words the sacrifice, kindness, confidence and selfless help showered on me by my timely advisor Dr. Vilas Kulkarni, Statistician, University of Agricultural Sciences, Dharwad, Dr. Pushpa Khadi, Co-ordinator, Human Development Department, University of Agricultural Sciences, Dharwad, Dr. Pushpa Bharati, Professor of Food and Nutrition, University of Agricultural Sciences, Dharwad,
Dr. Pushpa Mudalingannavar, Women Commission Department, Government of Karnataka.

Apart from the efforts of me, I would also like to acknowledge the input and wise words from Dr. C. R. Karisidappa, Retd. Professor & Chairman, Department of Library and Information Science, Karnataka University, Dharwad for his constant encouragement to complete this work.

I would like to express my thanks to the librarians and other staff members of the libraries of University of Agricultural Sciences, Dharwad, Karnataka University, Dharwad, SDM Medical College, Dharwad, and Mysore University, Mysore, for their help and co-operation extended during the reference work of my Ph.D thesis.

I owe thanks to the health staff, Dr. Shivakumar, Miss. Sabeena, Ms. Kaveri and Mr. Velu for their help rendered during examination of clinical signs and bio-chemical estimation.

At this juncture, I am extremely thankful to my adorable, pleasing, sweet hubby Mr. Manjunath D. Kumbar for his love, affection, encouragement and well wishing showered upon me, which laid the foundation of my life. He has been a true and great supporter and has unconditionally loved me during my good and bad times. He was always sticking by my side, even when I was irritable and depressed.

I feel the inadequacy of diction in expressing my sincere and heartfelt gratitude and affectionate regards to my beloved in-laws, Shri. Dharmanna M. Kumbar and Smt. Kamala D. Kumbar, parents, Shri. Mallikarjuna H. K. and Smt. Nagaratha, and all the family members, whose predilections, blessings, prayers and encouragement motivated me to work towards the cherished goal. I am overwhelmed with sincere feelings of indebtedness to my adorable son Shivayogi for his co-operation during my research work.
I convey my sincere regards to all my supporting friends Deepa Hebballi, Jayashri Patil, Sharada, Nazneen, Srilata Nandi and colleagues for their helping hand, moral support and good company throughout my study. I also thank Mr. V. A. Patil, CDPO, Hubli-Dharwad Urban Project and Mr. S. B. Masmaddi, CDPO, Kundgol Project, Dharwad, without who's permission and encouragement this work would not have been possible.

I conclude my words by remembering all those who have helped directly or indirectly in the completion of Ph.D. degree.
