ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I am extremely grateful to my supervisor and guide Dr. C.A. Sham Shankar, M.A., M.Phil., Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Economics, Post Graduate and Research Centre, S.T. Hindu College, Nagercoil, for his valuable guidance and encouragement at all stages of this work. Needless to say that but for his painstaking efforts and effective guidance, this thesis would not have taken its present shape.

I express my deepest sense of gratitude to Dr. S. Perumal, Principal, S.T. Hindu College, for his competent and active involvement during the period of my research.

I owe special thanks to Dr. C. Ramachandran, Head of the Department of Economics, Post Graduate and Research Centre, S.T. Hindu College, Nagercoil for having provided the necessary climate and infrastructure facilities for the completion of my work.

I am extremely thankful to Dr. D. Velappan, Former Principal of S.T. Hindu College, Nagercoil, for his advice, constructive criticisms and constant encouragement to complete the study.

I extend my thanks to the management of S.T. Hindu College, Nagercoil for their kind help in permitting me to undertake research in the Post Graduate and Research Centre, Department of Economics, S.T. Hindu College, Nagercoil.

I owe a special debt to all respondents who cheerfully bore with me in responding to my tedious questions.

I express my thanks also to my beloved teachers of the Department of Economics, S.T. Hindu College, Nagercoil for their help and encouragement.
I would also like to thank the librarians and members of the staff of the Centre for Development studies, Thiruvananthapuram, Manonmaniam Sundaranar University, Scott Christian College, S.T.Hindu College and Hindecon Research Centre, who allowed me full access to the materials available in their temples of research.

I also thank the District Integrated Child Development Officer, Nagercoil, the District Statistical Office, Nagercoil and the Health Department Office, Krishnankovil for their kind help and assistance for the data used in this study.

I would like to record my thanks to Dr. M. Murugan, M.Sc.(Stat), M.B.A., Ph.D., formerly Director, AJK Institute of Management, Coimbatore, for his assistance in Statistical calculations.

My hearty thanks also goes to my husband Mr. G. S. Vignesh, Assistant Manager, Dhanlekshmi Branch, Nagercoil; my son V. S. Koushik Rajaa; and my father Thiru. M. Sivagnanam Pillai; my mother N. Devi; my brother S. D. Manickam and my uncle Thiru. S. Govindaraj, and all other family members, who are the source of inspiration to me.

Last but not the least, I am gratefully thankful to Mr. A. Sukumaran, Proprietor, Kannan Technical Institute and Computers, Nagercoil for the neat execution of this work.

Above all, I thank God, the Almighty, for having showered his blessing upon me for the successful completion of this project report within the stipulated short period of time.
