ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

This research would not have been possible without the help of many people. I, most sincerely owe my deepest debt of gratitude to Indian Institute of Cost and Management Studies & Research (INDSEARCH) under University of Pune that permitted me to undertake this research in Pune, India.

Words are in sufficient to acknowledge the many hours spent in supervision and guidance by Dr. Milind Phadtare. He’s versatile erudition and timely advice helped to overcome may obstacles in the path of this research.

I also thank Dr. Sachin Jain and Prof. Jitendra Bhandari who put in a lot of time to test the statistics and analysis used in this thesis.

A special appreciation to the institute and its libraries which yielded much material for the research.

Last but not least I thank Mrs. Sarala Jagan for the painstaking edit of the thesis.

Of course I cannot forget the constant moral support of Phra Somchan Saenphan who at every stage offered both encouragement, support and help.

I must acknowledge here the blessings, prayers of parents and family and friends who kept faith in ability and encouraged me at all times.

This research would not be possible without the help of all whom I may not have acknowledged individually but they nevertheless played their roles silently to help me achieve my target.

Thank you one and all
