ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

One of the greatest opportunity of my life is to acknowledge for all those helping hands who made this milestone possible.

To work under the superlative guidance of Dr. R. Nagabhushanam, Professor and Head, Department of Zoology, Marathwada University, Aurangabad are the precious moments in one’s life. And I experienced this in my whole tenure of research work. His wholehearted support, prospective criticism, inspiring comments and intelligent discussion during the course helped me to plan and complete the present investigation.

I feel privileged to express sincere thanks to Dr. (Mrs.) R. Sarojini, Reader, Department of Zoology, Marathwada University, Aurangabad for her valuable time, unreserved help, words of encouragement and constructive criticism, without which it was not possible for me to complete this manuscript. I again thank her as it has helped me to sharpen my writing skills.

It is my duty to thank Dr. A.B. Wagh and his team at MCMRD, National Institute of Oceanography, Goa for the unreserved help in all facets of my research. I also thank Mr. Murari Tapaswi, Head, Documentation department, N.I.O. Goa for his help.

I will remain indebted to my teachers at graduation, Mr. Kunde, Dr. Kodarkar, M.S., Dr. Vasanta Rao Kulkarni and my teachers at Post-graduation Prof. V.S. Lomte, Head, Department of Environmental Sciences, Marathwada University, Aurangabad and Dr. A.B. Kulkarni, Reader, Department of Zoology, Marathwada University, for their moral support.
My thanks are due to Dr. (Mrs.) P.R. Machale and all my colleagues and friends who have helped me during the whole tenure of this work.

My father Shri Sumanrao, my mother, Mrs. Sindhubai, brother Sunil, sister-in-law Mrs. Sandhya, sister Mrs. Sushama and brother-in-law Shri Kishore have always been very sympathetic towards my higher education and always kept my moral high.

My thanks are due to Department of Ocean Development (D.O.D.) for providing me the financial assistance.

Lastly I wish to thank Mr. Nitin Nikam for his neat and timely typing and Mr. Ajit Surve Indian Airlines, Bombay for helping me in photography.
