ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It is my privilege to express my sincere gratitude to those who helped me in my work pertaining to the PhD Dissertation. I wish I could thank everyone starting with God, my family, my teachers, the mentors of my mental, moral and spiritual consciousness and the countless scholars whose ideas and language I have consciously and unconsciously used. But my obvious debt is to my supervisor, friends and members of my family who helped me through the agonies and ecstasies of my doctoral work.

I most humbly express my profound sense of gratitude to my esteemed guide and my Guru Dr. Jeyappriya, Associate Professor, Mother Teresa Women’s University, Kodaikanal, whose scholarly, able, careful, and constant guidance sustained my spirit and inspired me at every stage of my research study. “We cannot teach people anything, we can only help them discover it within themselves” -Galilio Gallie. Her inspiring guidance, this work would not have seen the light of the day. Easier said than done. Many of my skills were dormant before I met my guide. But my guide understood my strength, she encouraged me, pushed me whenever needed, told me repeatedly that I can do much better than I have done. Her words made me believe in me, I worked hard till the end, her teachings just didn’t help me in completing my PhD, but also helped in my professional and personal life. No words can describe how much I’m indebted to her.

I owe a great deal to my Amma Appa and my Athai Mama for whom no words of gratitude are enough as they have constantly goaded me, blessed me and prayed for the completion of my research work. My Husband Mr. S. Prabhu and my dear daughter Shreshta, my anna and his wife, my sister-in-law and brother in-law who always encouraged me with their congenial co-operation.
I am also thankful to Bharathiar University, Research and Development Centre, Coimbatore. Also to the Department of English, the teaching and non-teaching staff, for their constant help during my research work.

I cannot forget to express my thanks to The Librarian and the entire library staff of Mother Teresa Women’s University, Kodaikanal, SCILET Madurai, British Library and American Consulate, Chennai. They provided me books, and articles needed for my research work.

I cannot too warmly express my thanks to my friends for their constant and unstinting encouragement during the period of my entire research work.
