Acknowledgement

This work could not have been carried out without the help and guidance of many people, to all of whom I am indeed very grateful. I realize that acknowledging all the persons who have been of great encouragement, help and support during the past few years, is no less difficult than carrying out research itself, lest I inadvertently miss out someone.

At the very outset, it is my great privilege to express my deepest sense of gratitude and indebtedness to my Ph. D supervisor Dr. K.P. Dwivedi, Head and Professor (Retd.), CMD College Bilaspur, Chattisgarh. His personal attention and support from the very beginning was indeed a rare privilege. He always motivated me with his never-ending enthusiasm in guiding the research work, for his continual interest, support for the ongoing work and for his readiness to be always available whenever required. His comments were essential for the completion of this work.

Deepest gratitude goes to my co-supervisor Dr. Dharmendra Singh - Assistant Professor, Department of Electronics and Computer Engineering, Indian Institute of Technology, Roorkee, (Uttaranchal). He was the main source of inspiration for choosing the topic for my thesis. I would like to thank him for introducing me to the field of Remote Sensing. His enthusiasm and optimism encouraged me, especially when the light at the end of the tunnel appeared very far away.

I take this opportunity to express my grateful thanks to Principal Dr. (Smt.) K. Saxena and Ex-Principals, Prof. A.J.P. Rao, Dr. R.C. Mishra and Prof. S. R. Jogi, of Government Autonomous Science Post Graduate College, Bilaspur for giving me encouragement and providing all necessary facilities to carry out the research work. I am also thankful and highly obliged to Ex-Head, Prof. U.S. Mishra and Prof. A. K. Tiwari, Head, Department of Zoology.
My cordial thanks goes to Dr. R.K. Singh, former Vice Chancellor, Guru Ghasidas University, Bilaspur and presently Vice chancellor of Bhoj University, Bhopal for his administrative support in carrying out the research work.

Special thanks goes to Prof. Y. Yamaguchi, Niigata University, Japan, Prof. K.S. Rao CSRE, IIT Bombay and Prof. K.P. Singh, IT BHU, who from time to time, gave for their valuable suggestions and encouragement during the work.

This research work would not have been taken its present form without the co-operation and immense help given by Dr. A.K. Pandey, Assistant Professor, Department of Chemistry who patiently guided and helped me in carrying out laboratory work and estimations.

I express my sincere thanks to Dr. K. R. Sahu, A. P and Prof. A. K. Dixit for their time-to-time help. Special mention should also be made to Dr. R.S. Kher, Head -Department of Physics, Dr. S.A. Khan and Dr. A. K. Tripathi - both of Department of Chemistry, Dr (Ms) U. Tiwari - Department. of Botany, Dr. Alok Verma and Dr. A.K. Sao, Department of Mathematics for their help and support. I am also thankful to Shri. Riyaz, Head Clerk, Government Autonomous Science P.G. College, Bilaspur for his support in official works.

Special Thanks are due to Dr. Harinkhere of K.V.K, Bilaspur, for support and invaluable suggestions in dealing with agricultural aspect of my work. I would also like to thank Shri Dhan Singh for all his co-operation and help during fieldwork.

Special thanks are due to Dr Rajendra Prasad of IET, Lucknow, for careful reading through the manuscript. His corrections and constructive suggestions were much appreciated for improving the final version.

I would be failing in my duty if I do not acknowledge my family, my husband Sri A. D. Sao, who was the driving wheel behind the scene and my two beloved sons Anshul and Anuj, who deserve a very special thanks for their never ending love and persistent encouragement and cajoling throughout the life. I am highly thankful to my mother in-law Smt. Anusuya Sao for her affectionate encouragement, support and help. In particular, I would again like to thank my son Anshul who was of great help in preparing the diagrams and the manuscript, which was crucial in completing this work.

A very special mention is reserved for Mrs. Rao and Mrs. Singh for their continuous help, friendship and understanding.

Last but not the least I would like to thank Mr. Deshraj, Student Computer, 16 Nanda Building, No. 19, Civil Lines, Roorkee (Haridwar).
