ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The Postal Savings Bank had contributed for the economic development of almost all the nations in the world. Therefore, the Postal Savings System possesses important place in the financial institutions. The Post Office Savings Bank has contributed for the economic development but the Postal Savings System has been remain neglected by researcher of this nation. When this study was undertaken it was found that no research work was done so far in this field. Therefore, in order to throw light on the working of Post Office Savings Bank research was undertaken. My colleagues, friends, researcher and experts working in various fields, all they have helped me so as to complete the work at the earliest. I take this opportunity to express my sense of gratitude towards them.

With a sense of gratitude, I wish to place on record my sincere thanks to my Research Guide, Dr. S.D. Tupe, Reader, Department of Economics, Marathwada University, Aurangabad. It is really my pleasure and privilege to work under his guidance. I am indebted to him. His nobility, demyrmness and affection always encouraged, whenever the task seemed impossible.

My profound thanks are due to Dr. G.S. Kalyankar, Professor and Head, Department of Economics, Marathwada
University, Aurangabad of his guidance and encouragement to undertake the research work.

I am very much grateful to Shri B.S.R. Rao,(RBI Professor, Gokhale Institute of Politics and Economics, Poona) for extending help, particularly in giving final shape to the thesis. I have always been inspired by the encouragement of Shri N.M.Nawade,(Ex.Principal, Dayanand Commerce College, Latur).
