The path of success is not straight, it is riddled with temptations, impediments and pitfalls all along. All the difficulties make us realize the importance of success humbly. The thesis of Doctorate represents not only my work at keyboards, it is milestone in more than one decade of work at department of Human Genetics, Guru Nanak Dev University, Amritsar. I have not travelled in a vacuum in this journey. Not for the sake of convention alone but out of deep seated conviction it gives me profound pleasure to express my heartful feelings for those who helped me a lot in completing this work.

At this moment of accomplishment, I deeply acknowledge my mentor, Dr. Badaruddoza, Associate Professor for his persistent encouragement, inspiring attitude, dexterous guidance and for examining each and every statement thoroughly and more friendly despite being awfully busy in his own work and even during his tough times. I could not have asked better role model, than him. He has been inspirational, supportive and patient. I am proud of my academic roots and hope that I can in turn, pass on the research values and dreams that he has inculcated in me.

I am also extremely indebted to Prof. (Mrs) Sharda Sidhu, Prof. A.J.S. Bhanwer, Prof. (Mrs) Vasudha Sambyal, Prof. Vanita Kumar (Head of the Department), Dr. (Mrs) Gursatej Gandhi, Dr. (Mrs) Anupam Kaur, Dr. Manpreet Kaur, Dr. Kamlesh Guleria and Dr. Sanjana Mehrotra for being morale boosters for me and I am obliged for their support and persistent efforts for imparting the knowledge of this rapidly evolving field and also for providing necessary infrastructure and resources to accomplish my research work. I am highly indebted to Dr. (Mrs.) Kawaljit Matharoo for providing a helpful guidance.

I thank my RDC members, for their helpful suggestions and comments during my progress report presentations. I am thankful to Dr. Badaruddoza, Prof. A.J.S. Bhanwer, Prof. Sharda Sidhu, Prof. A.K. Thukral, Dr. A.S. Soodan, Dr. A.P. Vig and Er. M.S. Bhatti who taught me in Pre-Ph.D. courses work.

In our lab, all labmates have been like a family. My experience in the lab was greatly enhanced as it filled out from just Raman veer ji, Basanti, Manpreet, Ishpreet, Harjit, Ravinder and me. I will easily miss hanging out with them. I wish to sincerely thank Raman veer ji who is really more than a real brother. I had many rounds of discussions on my project with him that helped me a lot. I can demand anything from him more comfortably than my own brother. My special appreciation goes to Manpreet who is my sister, my friend and even my child also. I received a younger sister’s love, respect and care from her. It would have been totally impossible to complete my thesis without her help. I wish her to complete her Ph.D. very soon. Thanks to Basanti, Ishpreet and Ravinder for the fun and support during my stay in lab. I am grateful to Harjeet for love, respect and the help she has provided in typing. I look forward to have all of them as colleagues in the years ahead.

I bow my head in reverence to all my the teachers who have moulded me into what I am today and thanks to them from core of my heart. I can never forget the role played by M.A.S. Sr. Sec. School, Jiwan Wala (Faridkot), that taught me to face the ever competing world of sciences.

The best outcome from these seven years was finding my best friend, soul-mate and my better half, S. Kabal Singh Sandhu. I married the best person out there for me. He had faith in me and my intellect even when I felt like digging hole and crawling into one because I didn’t have faith in myself. He was the one who was always with me with his love, advices, scoldings and discussions on my Ph.D. work. Last chapter of thesis, ‘Bibliography’ is entirely dedicated to him. These past several years have not been an easy ride, both academically and personally for us. I feel that what we both have learned a lot about life and strengthened our commitment and determination to each other and to live life to the fullest. I have countless reasons to thank my little daughter, Inayat, who sacrificed her childhood even in the first year of her life. She has been exactly like an Angel and became an indispensable part of me. This work wouldn’t have been possible without her sacrifices. I thank her for being such a nice baby, that I could complete my thesis without any difficulty. With tears in my eyes, I would like to apologize to her.

Thanks to my parents in-law for whatever they have done for me.

Special words indeed, The words at my disposal are not adequate enough, either in form or spirit, to record the depth of my gratitude to my Bapuji and Biji for their extreme hard-work to educate our family, to my Baji for his dexterous, invaluable attitude and teachings throughout my studies and my Bibi though I have never been able to see her, but, still she has transferred the hard working genes to me. Respected Mummy and Papa ji, despite my favour for languages, it is hard to express thanks to you in words. Your understanding, the faith, advice, intellectual spirit and indescribable support to me throughout my life are invaluable. Your untold sacrifices for me cannot be acknowledged in words. I am very greatful for your care, love and trust in me and further thank you for your constant interest and positive stimulation. A special mention goes to my mother, without the backbone given by her, I could never reach this goal. My sincere thanks are also due to my brother, Harman and bhabhi, Aman whose encouragements, support and love have been like a big pillar of strength to me. They are the ones who gave me power during rough patches of my life. Love to my little niece, Amber although I have not yet seen her.
Thanks to my friends, Neha, Raman, Shiwal and Akbar, who have encouraged, entertained, cajoled and supported me through the dark times and celebrated with me through the good, who have been brilliant and understanding whenever I needed them to be. Great thanks to Taran, Aarti, Gurleen, Naresh and Meenakshi who helped to entertain Inayat after 5pm when I was busy with my thesis compilation.

Last but not the least I would like to thank all my relatives, cousins and old friends for their help in various ways. I doubt that I will ever be able to convey my appreciation fully, but I owe them my eternal gratitude.

In this juncture of time, words fail me to express my appreciation and gratitude to Mrs. Arzoo for her support, generous care and cordial adjustment. She was always beside me during the happy as well as hard moments to push me and motivate me. Thanks are also due to Natique and Shadman for their cheerful company.

I am grateful to the non-teaching staff of the Department of Human Genetics, for their cooperation and help with the administrative work. I appreciate the co-operation of Mr. Subhash Sharma and Mr. Maninder Singh of Subhash Computers for Thesis printing.

Special Acknowledgements

My special acknowledgements go to all those people who made possible the difficult task of ‘Sampling’ for my research work. My warm appreciation is due to the department for providing all the necessary facilities and help for the collection of samples. For this research, data were essential and I collected a lot of data. It’s my fortune to gratefully acknowledge the support of the adolescents (school children as subjects) who participated in the study, without their co-operation this piece of research could not have come in form.

Financial Support

I take this opportunity to sincerely acknowledge the University Grants Commission (UGC), Government of India, New Delhi, for providing financial assistance in the form of Maulana Azad National Fellowship which buttressed me to perform my work comfortably.

Infact, I do not have appropriate words to thank all of you above mentioned and others who are not, any how, I, the undersigned, assure your honour that it would be pride and privilege if I could be of any use for you in future.
