ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I would like to take this opportunity to express my appreciation and gratitude to all the people who supported me in countless ways for successful completion of this doctoral dissertation.

First and foremost, I would like to express my sincere gratitude to my supervisor, Dr. Manjusha Sharma, Professor & Chairperson, Department of Public Administration, K.U. Kurukshetra for her unconditional support throughout my research, and beyond. This work would not have been possible without his thoughtful guidance, insightful comments, warm encouragement and motivating words. She, not only helped me in all phases of my work, but also inculcated the love and fine appreciation for research, psychology and life in me. This dissertation would not have been possible without her.

I owe sincere thanks to all the faculty members of Department of Public Administration, Kurukshetra University, for their direct and indirect help. A special thanks to non-teaching staff of the department for their cooperation, support, and encouragement.

I would like to express my deep gratitude to my father Sh. Inder Singh, Mother Smt. Kamlesh, Brother Sukhbir and friends without their best wishes and encouragement I would not have been a successful. They have provided me continued moral support and have been peremial source of inspiration during research. How can I forget to express my thanks to my wife Sunita for her understanding, co-operation and never failing faith.
in me and my loving son Yuvansh for his countless smiles which motivated me to move ahead during the writing phase of this thesis. Last, but not least I am thankful to every person who has helped and supported me during this juncture.

I would also like to thank Mr. Ajay Gupta, Gupta G Computers, K.U.K. for his meticulous typing of the manuscript.

Last, but not least, I cannot express in words, my gratitude to the Almighty who enlightened my path and whose invisible presence eradicated all hurdles.
