ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The nine decades old Cooperative Marketing Societies in India might have made notable changes in the conditions of producer-farmers. This research is an innovative approach to measure the various impacts of cooperative marketing societies by adopting a different methodology i.e., based on the mindsets of the respondent farmers (their sense of realisation of the achievements acquired by them). Several individuals and institutions have helped me a lot in the successful completion of this study. It is my onerous duty to acknowledge their helps.

I am extremely grateful to my guide Dr. M. Gopalan, Former Reader and Head, Department of Cooperation, Sri Ramakrishna Mission Vidyalaya College of Arts and Science, Coimbatore - 20, for his stimulation, able guidance, constant supervision and above all his selfless and constant help. I am grateful to his unreserved, sympathetic and encouraging attitude.

I would like to acknowledge my deep sense of gratitude to Rev. Swami Sarvarupanandha, Secretary and Dr. S.Jayaraman, Principal, Sri Ramakrishna Mission Vidyalaya College of Arts and Science, for having granted me permission for pursuing higher studies, recommended for UGC – FIP fellowship and for all the encouragement and support.

I place on record my sincere thanks to the UGC, especially Hyderabad office, who have granted me Faculty Improvement Programme Fellowship which facilitated and expediated this task.

I owe my profound thanks to Dr. V.Kulandaisamy, Reader and HOD of Cooperation, Sri Ramakrishna Mission Vidyalaya College of Arts and Science for his kind suggestion and encouragement.

I would like to take this opportunity to offer my sincere thanks to Mr. T. Selvaraj, A.T.O., Govt. I.T.I. Tudialur, Mr. P. Ramalingam and Mr.
S. Kalidasan Former and present principals, Mr. K. Prithiviraj, A.T.O. and Mr. Jayaraman, Office Assistant of the Government I.T.I Coonoor, who have helped in providing me a comfortable accommodation during the data collection and report writing stages and also for all their encouragements.

I am also thankful to the officials and other staff of the selected units who have provided the relevant materials related to this research work.

I express my inestimable debt and felicity to Dr. C. Suyambulingam, Professor of Statistics (Rtd), Tamil Nadu Agricultural University, Coimbatore and Mr. Karthick of Gandhigram Deemed University for their valuable help in data processing and making them presentable.

I am very much thankful to all my colleagues in both day and evening college especially Mr. S. Suresh Babu for their help and encouragement. I thankfully recall the services of my friends Mr. G. Arul, Mr. R. Ravi and Mr. L. Kathiresan.

I thank Mr. R. Jayabal, Librarian, Sri Ramakrishna Mission Vidyalaya College of Arts and Science, Coimbatore – 20 for making available the necessary literature.

On my personal note, my special thanks and gratitude are to my parents for their affectionate blessings. I wish to thank my wife Mrs. T. Poongodi Lecturer in Mathematics, Avinashilingam Deemed University, Coimbatore who has not only bestowed on me her untiring patience and affection but was also a source of instinted inspiration and encouragement. My school going children, K.A. Ashok Kumar and K.A. Sathiya prakash have helped me to their maximum possible extent at various stages of this research work. I am reminded of the SQUREL, that helped RAMA in the construction of bridge between India and Sri Lanka. My heartfelt thanks are due to them.
