ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I record my warm gratitude to my guide Dr. G. Sekar, Reader, Department of Social Work, PSG College of Arts and Science, Coimbatore 14 for the immense help given by him in all stages of the study. His affectionate concern for the systematic progress of the study, the instant guidance that I got whenever I experienced some conceptual or methodological impasse, the compassionate counselling that he gave whenever I was in trouble defy exposition in words. I acknowledge with all humility and deep gratitude for the guidance, the counselling, and the help that I had from him that are extraordinary. It is needless to state that this work could not have been brought out in its present form without his guidance, encouragement and critical comments.

I sincerely express my profound thanks to Dr. D. Padmanaban, Chairman, GRD Institutions and Mrs. Geetha Padmanaban, Secretary, GRD Institutions, for their constant encouragement, motivation and guidance in all my academic endeavour.

My heartfelt thanks are due to Prof. D. K. P. Varadarajan, Secretary, Dr. B. Sampath Kumar, Principal, PSG College of Arts and Science who permitted me to do research in the College and to Dr. P. K. Murugan Principal Dr. GRD College of Science for his advice and motivation.
I wish to extend my thanks to Dr. T. Jothimani, Head, Department of Social Work, and the Faculty of Social Work for their moral support during the course of my study.

I thank all the respondents who patiently responded to the questionnaire.

My thanks are due to my well wishers who helped me in the research work, to Kanya Data Processing Centre and to Miss R. Shanthi Sree for data entry, for data analysis, and bringing the report in the presentable form.

Last but not least I thank my father Sri P.S. Palanivel, my mother Smt. Valliammal and my wife Mrs. Sarojhini Kamaraj who were the constant sources of encouragement in all my academic works.
