TABLE OF CONTENTS

CHAPTER I INTRODUCTION

1.1 Introduction .................................................. 1
1.2 Importance of Capital in Agricultural Sector ................. 2
1.3 Need for Credit .................................................. 4
1.4 Role of Rural Financial Market ................................ 5
1.5 Structure of Rural Financial Market .......................... 6
1.6 Scope of the Study .............................................. 8
1.7 Objectives ...................................................... 9
1.8 Hypotheses ..................................................... 10
1.9 Methodology .................................................... 10
1.10 Chapterisation .................................................. 11

CHAPTER II REVIEW OF LITERATURE

2.1 Introduction .................................................... 15
2.2 Un-organised Money Market ................................... 15
   2.2.1 Supply of Credit ........................................... 17
   2.2.2 Credit Use .................................................. 21
2.3 Organised Money Market ....................................... 23
   2.3.1 Credit Use .................................................. 26
   2.3.2 Overdues .................................................... 28
CHAPTER III DEMAND FOR AND SUPPLY OF RURAL CREDIT IN INDIA

3.1 Introduction
3.2 Demand for Credit
3.3 Definition of Credit Requirements
3.4 Demand Projection in Future
3.5 Supply of Credit

CHAPTER IV ORGANISED MONEY MARKET IN INDIA

4.1 Introduction
4.2 Structure of the Organised Money Market in India
4.3 Co-operative Banks and its Importance
   4.3.1 Structure of Co-operative Credit in India
   4.3.2 Growth and Performance of Co-operative Banks
   4.3.3 The Role of Co-operatives in Agricultural Finance
   4.3.4 The Flow of Co-operative Credit for Agricultural Sector
   4.3.5 Failures of Co-operative Banks
4.4 Commercial Banks
   4.4.1 Importance of Commercial Banks
   4.4.2 Structure of Commercial Banking System in India
   4.4.3 Progress of Commercial Banking in India
4.4.4 Branch Expansion 90
4.4.5 Deposits 91
4.4.6 Credit 92
4.4.7 Credit - Deposit Ratio 92
4.4.8 The Role of Commercial Banks in Agricultural Financing 94
4.4.9 Credit to Priority Sector 95
4.5 Regional Rural Banks (RRBs) 98
4.5.1 Importance and Functions of RRBs 99
4.5.2 Special Features of RRBs 99
4.5.3 Growth and Performance of RRBs 100
4.5.4 RRBs Credit to Agricultural Sector 101
4.5.5 Problems of RRBs 103
4.6 Interest Rates of Organised Money Market 104
4.7 Trends and Flow of Organised Money Market Credit to Agriculture in India 106

CHAPTER V UN-ORGANISED MONEY MARKET IN INDIA

5.1 Introduction 113
5.2 Origin of Indigenous Financial Agencies 113
5.3 Characteristics of Un-organised Money Market in India 117
5.3.1 Structure of Un-organised Money Market in India 119
5.4 Money-Lenders 119
5.4.1 Importance of Money-Lenders in Rural Economy 120
5.4.2 Organisation and Functions of Village Money-Lenders

5.4.3 Organisation and Functions of Town or Urban Money-Lenders

5.4.4 Organisation and Functions ofPawnbrokers

5.4.5 Special Features of Money-lenders

5.4.6 Defects of Money-Lenders

5.4.7 Decline of Money-Lenders

5.5 Regulation of Money-Lenders Activities

5.6 Indigenous Bankers

5.6.1 Operations of Indigenous Bankers

5.6.2 Organisation and Functions of Indigenous Bankers

5.6.3 Organisation and Functions of Shikarpuri Shroffs or Multanis

5.6.4 Organisation and Functions of Gujarati Shroffs

5.6.5 Organisation and Functions of the Nattukottai Chettiyars and Kallidaikurichy Brahmins

5.6.6 Organisation and Functions of Marwaris

5.6.7 Traders and Commission Agents

5.6.8 Defects Associated with Indigenous Bankers

5.6.9 Decline of Indigenous Bankers

5.7 Nidhis

5.7.1 Organisation and Functions of Nidhis
5.7.2 Defects of Nidhis

5.8 Chit Funds

5.8.1 Organisation and Functions of Chit Funds

5.8.2 Types of Chit Funds and their Working

5.8.3 Defects of Chit Funds

5.9 Interest Rates of Un-organised Money Market

5.10 Progress of Un-organised Money Market in India

5.10.1 Borrowings by Cultivators in India

5.10.2 Outstanding Cash Debt by Cultivators in India

5.10.3 Purpose-Wise Borrowings of Cultivators in India

5.10.4 Average Amount of Cash Borrowings and Repayments in India During 1961-62 and 1981-82

CHAPTER VI ROLE OF RURAL FINANCIAL MARKET - A CASE STUDY OF TAMIL-NADU

6.1 Introduction

6.2 Basic Information

6.2.1 Land and Irrigation Potential of Tamil Nadu

6.2.2 Cropping Pattern

6.2.3 Agricultural Operational Holdings

6.3 Sources of Rural Credit in Tamil Nadu
6.4 Role and Importance of Money-Lenders in Tamil Nadu

6.4.1 Classification of Money-Lenders in Tamil Nadu

6.5 Indigenous Bankers

6.5.1 Nattukottai Chettiyars

6.5.2 Kallidaikurichy Brahmins

6.5.3 The Multani Bankers

6.5.4 Marwaris

6.6 Nidhis

6.7 Chit Funds

6.8 Interest Rate Determination in Rural Financial Market

6.8.1 Factors Affecting the Interest Rate in Un-organised Money Market in Tamil Nadu

6.8.2 Interest Rates of Money-lenders and Indigenous Bankers in Tamil Nadu

6.9 Progress of Un-organised Money Market in Tamil Nadu

6.9.1 Borrowings by Cultivators in Tamil Nadu

6.9.2 Outstanding Cash Debt by Cultivators in Tamil Nadu

6.9.3 Purpose-Wise Borrowings of Cultivators in Tamil Nadu

6.9.4 Average Cash Borrowings and Repayments in Tamil Nadu During 1961-62 and 1981-82

6.10 Progress of Organised Money Market in Tamil Nadu
6.10.1 Co-operative Banks in Tamil Nadu 210

6.10.2 Commercial Banks in Tamil Nadu 215

6.10.3 RRBs in Tamil Nadu 217

6.11 Organised Money Market Credit to Agriculture in Tamil Nadu 217

CHAPTER VII SUMMARY AND CONCLUSIONS

7.1 Research Implications 246

APPENDIX

A. BIBLIOGRAPHY