ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I owe my indebtedness, first and foremost, with great pleasure to my supervisor Dr. K. Karunakaran, Professor and Head, Department of Linguistics, Dean - Faculty of Arts & Member of the Syndicate, Bharathiar University for giving me a good opportunity to undertake this research in the Department of Linguistics and for his kind help, ready encouragement throughout, and for his constructive criticisms to improve the various aspects of the research work. But for his kind co-operation, abiding and affectionate interest, I could not have successfully completed my thesis. I sincerely thank him for his painstaking thoroughness with which he patiently guided me by giving fruitful suggestions at the right time.

I take this good opportunity as a privilege to thank whole heartedly Dr. C. Shunmugom, Reader and Dr. C. Sivashanmugam, Lecturer of the Department of Linguistics, Bharathiar University, Coimbatore. I have commenced my research work under their constant help and I have benefited much due to their stimulating discussions and constant encouragement. I will ever remember them for the interest they have shown in seeing this work in complete form and its present shape.

It is my duty to thank the University Grants Commission, Government of India, New Delhi for awarding me a Junior Research Fellowship which helped me to carry out this work without much financial difficulties. I record my gratitude to the Authorities of the Bharathiar University for giving me the admission and necessary facilities to undertake this research.

I wish to record my thanks to Dr. E. Annamalai, and Dr. M.S. Thirumalai, Deputy Directors, CIIL, Mysore for helping me in preparing the initial format for this present research work and, for providing necessary facilities at the CIIL whenever I visited them for discussion and consultation.
I would like to specially thank Dr. V. Gnanasundaram, Research Officer, CIIL, Mysore and Dr. N. Nadaraja Pillai, Lecturer, SRLC-CIIL, Mysore for spending much of their time in designing the questionnaires and for the discussion I had with them in relation to the analysis of the data.

My thanks are due to Dr. R. Chandrasekaran, Reader in Tamil, Mr. O. Balakrishnan, Research Scholar in Tamil, Bharathiar University, Coimbatore and Mr. D. Gunasekaran, Research Scholar in CALT, Hyderabad for their help and encouragement during the course of my research.

The Headmasters, teachers and students of the Government Tribal Residential Schools have helped me in all respects while I was collecting the data and conducting the field work. Specially, the Head Masters Mr. Subramaniam, Mr. Krishnan and Mr. Selvaraj in addition to their general help provided me boarding the lodging facilities. I wish to record my gratitude to all the above mentioned teaching members and students of the tribal schools of the Nilgiris.

I would like to record my thanks to Mr. Rama Kannan and Mr. PR. Kanagaraj who helped me in making my stay pleasant in the tribal areas where I have collected the data for the present work.

My special thanks are also due to the library and other faculty staff and experts of the Central Institute of Indian Languages, Mysore and Central Institute of English and Foreign Languages, Hyderabad for having helped me in getting the printed information related to the present research. I am thankful to Professor K. Karunakaran for deputing me to various Institutions for collecting the information related to the present work.
Last but not least, my thanks are due to my wife Mrs. Sarojini Sivakumar, my son Mr. S. Raja Bharath and my brother-in-law Mr. M. Radha Krishnan for their constant encouragement and for bearing all the household difficulties during the period of my research.
