This thesis has been prompted by the recent realization of the importance of communication skill in English in Technical Education by the stake-holders of higher education. It is the result of four years of hard work based on my own teaching experience in English and suggestions and assistance of many academics and the writings of great authors. I take this opportunity to acknowledge the services of those great minds.

I continue to be indebted and grateful to my Ph.D supervisor Dr.P.Thirunavukkarasu, M.A., M.Phil, Ph.D., Dip.Ed., Reader and Head, Department of English, Kongunadu Arts and Science College (Autonomous), Coimbatore, for his valuable guidance, innovative thinking and keen interest in shaping this thesis to its perfection.

I owe my sincere thanks to Dr.A.A Siva Kumar, M.Sc., Ph.D., M.Ed., PGDEE., Principal, Kongunadu Arts and Science College (Autonomous), Coimbatore for granting me necessary permission to be a part-time candidate, and all the learned faculty of the Department of English of that College for their moral support and inspiration.
I express my unalloyed gratitude to Ms. S. Malarvizhi, M.Sc., M.Phil., Chairperson, Sri Krishna Trust, for her gracious permission to undertake this research work and make use of the facilities in the college.

My indebtedness and gratitude are due to Dr. S. Subramainan, Ph.D., Principal, Sri Krishna College of Engineering and Technology, Coimbatore, for his leniency and flexibility shown to me during the period of this research work.

I am equally indebted to my affectionate students, the animating specimens of my study, for their commendable co-operation and positive responses.

I express my sincere thanks to Mr. N. V. Krishnamoorthy, M.E., Administrative Officer, Sri Krishna College of Engineering and Technology, Coimbatore for his choicest blessings and timely help.

I owe my heartfelt thanks to Prof. M. P. Baladhandapani, M.A., M.Phil., LL.B., Dip.Ed., former Head of the Department of English, Kongunadu Arts and Science College for his valuable support and suggestions.
I profoundly thank Dr. S. Lakshmi, M.A., M.Phil., Ph.D., Reader, Department of English, Gandhigram Rural University, Dindigul who was kind enough to spare her valuable time to discuss with me several cardinal points pertaining to the thesis.

I am under obligation to Dr. Anandhamurugan, MLIS., Ph.D, Librarian, Banaras Hindu University and the librarians of Sri Krishna College of Engineering and Technology, Coimbatore, British Council Library, Chennai, Kongunadu Arts and Science College, Coimbatore and Bharathiar University, Coimbatore for their generous help in providing me the sources required for my research work.

I express my sincere gratitude to Mrs. Menaka, M.A., M.Phil., Senior Lecturer, PSG College of Technology, Coimbatore, Mrs. Vichitra Sivaji, M.A., M.Phil, Senior Lecturer, R.V.S College of Engineering and Technology, Coimbatore, for proof-reading the thesis and Mrs. R. Karunambigai, M.A., M.Phil., Lecturer, S.N.R Sons College, Coimbatore for her help in documentation of the sources.
I am extremely thankful to my friends Mrs. G. Kouslaya, M.C.A., M.E., Associate Professor, Department of Computer Science and Engineering, Mr. S. Duraisamy, M.C.A., M.Phil., Assistant Professor, and Mrs. D. Bhanu, M.C.A., M.Phil., Lecturer, Department of Computer Applications, Sri Krishna College of Engineering and Technology, Coimbatore and my beloved sister Mrs. K. Sindhu Rani, M.C.A., for their technical guidance and gratuitous help.

My over riding debt is to my family – my mother Mrs. Suseela, my husband Mr. R. Suriya Prabhaakar, B.E., and my loving daughter Ms. S. P. Veena – who provided me with the time, support and inspiration needed to complete this research work.

Above all, this arduous task manifests the greatness of God, the Almighty, who has showered His abundant grace on me and endowed me with wisdom, inspiration, mental courage and good health throughout the period of my research. My heart swells with gratitude to Him.
