<td>Hai! How are you?</td>
<td>I am fine, who are you?</td>
<td>I am Priya. I belong to 20th century.</td>
<td>Why you had this sad end in the young age itself?</td>
<td>Due to the problem held in Ayodhya.</td>
<td>What is the problem?</td>
<td>There is a religious problem between Hindus and Muslims.</td>
<td>Muslims says that Babur Masjid should not be destroyed. But Hindus wanted the old Temple of 'Rama'. And so the problem came in the case of God.</td>
<td>How sad! In our time people had no any difference in religions. They lived very happily and led their life peacefully.</td>
<td>I want to ask you onething. That is when Rama and a Lakshmanan left you in the hut and Ravanan kidnapped you why don't you use your bows and arrows or any other weapons which would have practised in your land?</td>
<td>Yes, I ought to use but Ravanan was more powerful than me. Also he had the will to disappear suddenly. And so he took away me without any apposition.</td>
<td>If Lakshmanan was belonged to this 20th century he would give you A.K.47, a machine gun inorder to protect you from any trouble.</td>
<td>Yes. Now-a-days you are all well developed. Even the girls were knowing &quot;Karate&quot;.</td>
<td>Yes, You would have practised &quot;karate' unfortunately you are not born in our century O.K. Thank you, for your kind heart to spend time with me.</td>
<td>Bye.</td>

SPECIMEN 2

Situation:

The great war between Rama and Ravana ended. Ravana was killed by Rama. Rama rescued Sita.

Rama wanted to show Sita’s virtue to the whole world. So he asked her to take fire bath.

Sita : Do you suspect my virtue?
Rama : No, I don’t suspect. But we should not give chance to let people suspect.
Sita : O.K. I Agree.

Modern : Rama - Sita.

Sita : You have suspected me. Hereafter I cannot live with you, happily.
Rama : No, No you please undertake a fire bath.
Sita : I don’t want to undertake fire bath, when I am pure. If you don’t accept me, you can divorce me.
Rama : No, I don’t want to divorce you. You just obey what I said.
Sita : Why should I obey you for silly things. Now-a-days women have 100% liberty. I can live without you. I don’t want to live with you, once you suspected me. So I divorce you.
Rama : Sita, please, cool down.
Sita : What I decided is decided.
I'll not change my decision.
We'll meet in the court.
Good Bye.

SPECIMEN 3

On a full moon night, I sat very eagerly before my grandfather, to hear the ‘Mahabharatha’ in his lovely words. I was deeply moved by the character, ‘Gandhari’. I kept on thinking of her during my supper and went to bed. I couldn’t help my subconscious mood, questioning her sacrifices. When I entered my room, I was wonder-struck on seeing Gandhari on my bed.

Myself : Hello! I can now clear my doubts that arose about your sacrifices.
Gandhari : Yes, I can share your views about our life. But, we are not so advanced as you in our days.
Myself : Yes. I accept. Please tell me your thoughts frankly. For whose sake you have sacrificed your lovely sight?
Gandhari : As you know, in marriage ceremony we, girls are promising to share our partner’s good and bad deeds. I must obey that promise. I must not let him depressed for not seeing me and my children and this beautiful world.

Myself : Alright. It’s your opinion of that day. If you were here in this well-advanced century, would you do the same thing?

Gandhari : No, certainly I would not do that. It is a well advanced world. Today, you are having amazing things happening every single second. I can cure my husband’s sight. For that, I must have sight know.

Myself : In those days, ‘Pathivirathas’ like you have treated your husbands as living-gods. But, today, we don’t believe that. What do you think of this?

Gandhari : In my days, men are capable of that post. But, today both women and men are unfit.

Myself : Your husband haven’t stopped his son when he assaulted your daughter-in-law in a big court. Do you think he respected your sacrifice since he kept quiet during that incident.

Gandhari : I can only say that he is completely blinded by his love for his son. But I too feel very sad.

Myself : What do you feel about today’s women’s liberation?

Gandhari : Liberation is like birth-right. Women should themselves take and they shouldn’t wait for somebody to give them.

(I felt a hand on me and I opened my eyes to find my mother standing near me. I realised that this was a dream, a faery’s dream).

SPECIMEN 4

There is an argument going on in the court. An advocate is questioning a witness. It is a murder trial.

Advocate : What is your name?

Witness : My name is Gupta.

Advocate : Have you witnessed the murder?

Witness : Yes.

Advocate : Do you know the man standing before you?

Witness : Yes, He is the murderer.
Advocate: Before the judgement you can’t mention him as the murderer. Please answer to the point.

Witness: I have seen the murder. So why can’t I say a murderer as a murderer.

Advocate: Now you can say what you all know about the case.

Witness: While I was returning home, I heard a shriek of a woman from a nearby house. Actually I don’t want to interfere. But the cry of the woman insisted me to go near the house. As I went near the house, the whole house seemed to be silent that I couldn’t hear anything. So I decided to return. As I was walking I saw a window open, out of curiosity I peeped into it. I saw this man kneeling before the dead body of a woman which was full of blood.

Advocate: Could you remember the time, you heard the cry.

Witness: It was nearly 12:30 p.m.

Advocate: Is that the regular time for you to return home?

Witness: No. Usually I will be at home by 9'O clock. On that day I went to see a film, to Lakshmi Theatre.

Advocate: As far as my knowledge, there is no film, especially 2nd show, won’t end before 2'O clock.

Witness: It was an English film. It came to an end at 12'O clock.

Advocate: Do you remember the colour of the shirt of the murderer?

Witness: No.

Advocate: Thank you. You can go now.

(Now the advocate is placing the facts before the court)

Advocate: Your Honour. We have the post mortem report that the woman was killed by 1:30 p.m. and she was completely dosed. Hence there was not a chance to cry as the witness had reported. On that day only Tamil film was shown in the Lakshmi theatre. So this witness is also a convict for giving false information.

SPECIMEN 5

(A Group of students from Vellalar College gone to a picnic to Bannari Temple. They thought to meet “Sandal Smuggling Veerapan”. Meeting a person in the dense Satyamanglam forest)
Hallo, Do you know Veerappan?
Veerappan! Who?
The famous "Sandal Smuggling Veerappan".
Why are you interested to meet him?
We want to interview him?
What do you think about him?
Nothing serious.
Do you agree with his action?
What's wrong in it?
Your argument is supporting him. Are you the member of Veerappan's Group?
Member! I am Veerappan.
Don't joke. You look entirely different while comparing your real photo.
Like your filmstars, I changed my face by plastic surgery.
Are you not ashamed of your action?
No, I am not ashamed, when compare your political leaders.
Are you bold enough to compare yourself with the political leaders?
Yaa, political leaders are the worst smugglers while we have to hide in the jungle.
Do you have successors?
Yes, my son.
Where is your property hidden?
Not in the Swiz bank.
Then; Where else do you have it?
In the 'Treasure island'.
Wow! You are very bold and intelligent.
Of course! I am.
Do you think you will last long?
No idea?
We had a nice time with you.
I too enjoyed it.

SPECIMEN 6

Raju had a brother. His name is Ravi who became addict to the drugs by the friendship with Babu. So Raju planned to kill Babu. At night he went to the bed by thinking about his plan. He was taken to the court with full security.

Public Prosecutor : My Lord! This fellow done a cruel murder. He must be punished severely.

Lawyer of Raju : How he can say that it was a cruel murder.

Public Prosecutor : He killed the college boy, Babu mercilessly.

Lawyer of Raju : We have to know on what situation this incident was happened?

Judge : Raju, if you want to say anything about this?

Raju : I accepted my fault. But I killed only the traitor who should not live in the world. Because he destroyed the life of the students.

Judge : Do you think by killing him you can abolish the habit of taking drugs from this world.

Raju : I think my act is right. Due to his friendship I lost my brother. To protect the life of many youngsters. I killed him.

Judge : Though it is right on your side, according to law, you must be punished. You have to hang.

Raju : No! No!

(He suddenly woke up from his sleep. Then only he came to know that it was a dream. He left the idea to kill the Babu and decided to take action against this evil in some other way.)

SPECIMEN 7

A lady who had committed suicide had been brought before God for her judgement.

God : Why have you brought her here?

Angels : Your Highness! She had committed suicide an hour before.

God : What is the reason for you to commit suicide at this age?

Lady : Poverty, lack of love, lack of protection are the reasons which caused me to commit suicide.
God : Everybody in this world have such problems, but they do not suicide.
Lady : All the people who have such worries will surely have someone or the other to console, but I do not have a single person.
God : Life in the world is like a wave. It has crests and troughs. Why should you think of committing suicide? You should have known to adjust with the society.
Lady : I have come here with great sorrow and inspite of it you talk without any mercy. Can't even you understand my sorrows. Don't ask such stupid question.
God : Why are you getting angry for the simple question I asked you? If you get angry for this itself then how can you adjust with the society.
Lady : Don't ask me silly question again and again? It is my body, my life I did it. What for you?
God : Who told you that it is your body and your life? Who gave you the authority to take your life.
Lady : You take away the life of the youths. In that case what's wrong in me committing suicide.
God : It was I who created the universe. I have to keep the world in equal balance. So I take away the life of the youth.
Lady : Coming to your point why don't consider my suicide as a balance item.
God : There is a time for you to die. Till then I had given you a work to do. You are asking me such bold questions. Why couldn't you face the world with the same boldness.
Lady : I had nobody to advice me so I thought nothing was possible but now I feel everything is possible.
God : It is too late. Now go back to the world and come back after your time is over.
