To my friends and colleagues at Maharani's Science College.

To Smt. Nirmala Shashikanth for her moral support.

To my fellow-research scholars Mr. Ashok Kumar Singh, Mr. Harsha and Mr. Venugopal who were with me through the good and bad times.

To M/s Softouch for their co-operation and untiring efforts in shaping this thesis.

I have been fortunate enough to have the best of parents Shri B.M. Somashekar and Smt. B.S. Sridevi who have been my pillar of strength over the years. My sincere thanks to them for providing me support in various forms and for always being there to see me through my difficulties.

Words are inadequate to express my sincere gratitude to my sister Smt. B.S. Swaroop Rani who, with her research intuition has provided me overwhelming and tremendous support all through my research. I thank my brother-in-law Sri. T.S. Badrinath for his encouragement. I deeply treasure the moral support given to me by my little niece Sirishree.

I am grateful to my sister B.S. Jayamala for her cooperation during my research work.
