I am deeply indebted to my Research Supervisor Prof. S.S. Ramachandra Murthy, Head of the Department of Indian Culture, S.V. University, Tirupati, who has shaped me into a serious research scholar. But for his kind encouragement, paternal care and excellent guidance and patience this thesis could not have been completed in its present form. Words fail me to express my gratitude to him.

I owe a great deal to the renowned historian and my colleague Dr. Y. Gopala Reddy, Lecturer in History, Govt. College, Gadur, Nellore District, who kindled the flame of research in my heart. It was he who gave me valuable suggestions and clarified many of my doubts in course of my research.

I am thankful to Dr. D. Kirankrarnt Chaudary, Reader, Dept. of Indian Culture, S.V. University, Tirupati, for his encouragement and help in my research work.

My sincere thanks are due to Prof. S. Sankara Narayanan, Prof. D. Sridhara Babu, and Prof. M.S. Narayana Murthy, the successive Directors of Oriental Research Institute, S.V. University, Tirupati, for all the help I received from them. It is unfortunate that Prof. D. Sridhara babu passed away while in service.

My thanks are due to the Secretary Sri A. Venku Reddy, and staff of ‘Nellore Varahamana Samajam’, Nellore for allowing me to use their library.
I am grateful to the curator Dr. Umesh Pavankar of Raja Dinkar Kelkar Museum, Pune, who helped me in utilising the material in the museum for my research work. My sincere thanks to Sri Ramakanth, Curator, Archaeology and Museums, Govt. of Andhra Pradesh, Hyderabad for helping me at various stages of my research work.

I am extremely grateful to the Registering Officers and Staff of Archaeology and Museums, Nellore, and Tirupati for their help at various stages of my work.

I am extremely thankful to my wife Smt. C.V. Balatripura Sundari, Lecturer in English, for offering her invaluable suggestions on the crucial problems I faced. She took a lot of pain in going through every line of the work. I am in deep debt of gratitude to her.

I express my profound gratitude to my father-in-law, Shri C.V. Hanumantha Rao, I.R.S., a scholar in Sanskrit for his valuable suggestions at various stages of my work.

I am deeply indebted to my parents Late Sri E. Hanumantha Rao, and Late Smt. E. Annapurnamma, who encouraged me to take up research work.

I am grateful to Shri A.K.V.S. Reddy, and Sri Viswanatham of T.T.D. Museum, Tirupati, for their help in consulting the material in the Museum.

My sincere thanks are due to the Director, Indian Council of Historical Research, New Delhi for the study grant which has helped me in completing the research work.

I must make a special mention of obligation to The Director, Collegiate Education, Govt. of Andhra Pradesh, Hyderabad, for his kind permission to do research work.

I also thank Sri D. Manohar Reddy of Sri Ven Computers, Nellore for designing the Maps. Without his help the maps would have just been impossible. My thanks to P. Venkatarayudu, I. Srinivasa Rao, and S.V.S. Ramakrishna of Academy of Competitive Examinations, Nellore for their encouragement.

I am thankful to Shri M.V. Raman and his Associates, Raman’s Jobbing Centre, Nellore, for typing of my Thesis very neatly with much patience.
