ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

At the very outset, I would like to convey my indebtedness to Professor Asok Kumar Sarkar, my teacher and research guide, for his patience, motivation, and meticulous approach. His guidance has helped me in all the time of research and writing of this thesis. Without his support it would not have been possible to complete this research work. He has been a role model for me and has guided through all the ups and downs of my personal and professional life. The critical inputs that I received from him have hugely contributed to my research aptitude. I guess these literary words are not sufficient to reflect his contribution to this research work and my life.

I extend my gratitude to all the key respondents from NGOs, schools, and communities for their cooperation and support for the present study. In addition, I would like to express heartfelt thanks to Mr. Surojit Neogi and Ms. Nasmin Akhtar Choudhury of Action Aid, Mr. Animesh Chatterjee of Pratham Education Foundation, Mr. Debashis Panda of CESR and Mr. Partha Roy of Kolkata Konsultants for sharing their experiences and helping me with the logistics, during data collection.

I am thankful to the librarian and staff of Visva- Bharati University and National Library Kolkata for allowing me to consult the necessary study materials. Further, I am obliged to Dr. V. K. Thomas, University Librarian, Visva-Bharati University, for providing remote access to online subscribed resources of Visva-Bharati Library Network.

I would like to express sincere gratitude to Rev. Fr. C. P. Anto, Principal NEISSR, for granting study leave in spite of having fewer number of teachers, putting less workload, arrangement of food and many more to count. I am also thankful to Mr. Liangamang
Robert, Mr. Joseph Anil V. Danthy, and Mr. Zephyr Lugun for their cooperation and support for last one and half year which helped me to complete this perplexing task.

Finally, I am grateful to my parents for extending emotional and monetary support to complete this research work. It is their motivation and inspiration that has kept me going. I am fortunate enough to have such loving and caring parents. I extend my indebtedness to Mrs. Sulata Sarkar, a motherly figure, for all the support and care that I have received from her. I am thankful to Ms. Nilotpola Sharma for boosting my morale during odd times. I would also like to extend my heartfelt thanks to my childhood friends Mr. Himojoyti Mazumder, Mr. Ahitush Dey and Mr. Karunaksha Debnath for their emotional support.
