Acknowledgements

Archaeology is an important source for the reconstruction of the human past history of a region, where written records are rarely available. Archaeology provides us a very strong base to study the ancient cultural heritage. The present thesis “Terracotta art of Middle Ganga Plain of Bihar (Early Period to 600 A.D.)” deals with the archaeology of the region based on the exploration conducted by the researcher and earlier scholars, excavators and ancient literature. The material remains of the by gone eras give us glimpse of that period and we find these remains with the help of archaeological explorations and excavations.

I express my deep sense of gratitude and heat-felt thanks to my supervisor Dr. Bipin Kumar Jamuar, Prof. & Head of the Deptt. of A.I.H. & Arch. Patna University, Patna for showing his kindness and providing proper guidance to me. It would have been very difficult for me to complete this dissertation without his constant help and efforts.

I express my deep sense of gratitude and indebtedness to Dr. U. C Dwivedi, Rtd. Director, Museum, Bihar, for his co-operation to me for my research work on this topic “Terracotta art of Middle Ganga Plain of Bihar (Early Period to 600 A.D.)”. I am obliged to Dr. Jai Prakash Narayan Singh, Director, Museums, Bihar, who advises me on many aspects of the study and gave permission for the photographs of terracotta’s preserve in different Museum’s in Bihar. I am also obliged to Dr. Atul Kumar Verma, Director, Archaeology, Bihar, who supported me for my archaeological field work during my research.

I am extremely grateful to Prof. S. S. Singh, Dr. Jaidev Mishra, Dr. Navin Kumar, Dr. Navin Kumar Arya, Dr. Dinesh Prasad Kamal, Dr. Sayeed Alam and Dr. Badar Ara, in the department of Ancient Indian History.
& Archaeology, Patna University (Patna), for encouraging me at every step and giving valuable suggestions to me whenever I need.

I am also thankful to the Library of Ancient Indian History and Archaeology Deptt. (Patna University) Library of Institute of Archaeology (Red Fort, New Delhi), Patna University Library (Patna), Buddha Smriti Park Library, (Patna), Bihar Puravid Parisad & Bihar research society Library and other administrative and technical staff of the Dept. of Ancient Indian History & Archaeology (Patna University) & Patna Museum staff for the all possible help and co-operation.

I am thankful to my seniors and especial thanks to Dr. C. P. Sinha President of Bihar Puravid Parisad, Dr. Arvind Mahajan Regional Director, Museums, Bihar, Dr. Parashuram Pandey Curator, BSP Museum and Md. Ayaz Ahmad In-charge of Buddha Smriti Park, Patna for their nice co-operation. I am also thankful to my friends Kunal Priyardarshi, Akhilesh Kumar Singh, Chadragupta Mishra, Dr. Nirbhaya Kumar, Prasoon Kumar Singh, Md. Faiz Ahmad, Haider Alam Khan, Ashish Kumar Manu, Md. Shahid Raza, Vicky Kumar, Mrs. Reeta Kumari & Mrs. Ranju Kumari for supporting me.

I am heartily thankful to my father, Sri C. N. Prasad for providing me good accommodation during the exploration & study of terracotta in Middle Ganga Plain of Bihar (Earliest Period to 600 A.D.)

Last but not least, above all my deep gratitude and regards to my parents and other family members whose blessings, and encouragement and wishes are the cementing factors to give this dissertation in final form.

Date: 08/07/2015
Place: Patna