ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I express my gratitude to Dr. Priya Davidar for her guidance, help and encouragement throughout this study and specially thank her for introducing me to the fascinating world of wet tropical rainforest. I also thank her for providing me financial support and use of computing facilities at Pondicherry.

I am grateful to Prof. K. S. Bawa for his interest in this work and for giving me the necessary financial backing during the later half of this study.

I thank Shri Ramasamy, Chief Engineer (Hydro Generation), Madras, and Shri Ranganatha Rao ex Superindent Engineer (Generation), Tirunelveli, who readily gave us permission to stay in the TNEB quarters at Upper Kodayar, without which field work would have been impossible at Kakachi. I also thank the cooperation of Mr. Prince (Divisional engineer), Mr. Eswaran (Asst Divisional Engineer) and Mr. Sodalaiandi (Junior Engineer) who have helped us in many ways at Kodayar.

I acknowledge the help and cooperation of the managers and staff of BBTC estates during this study. I specially thank Mr. Jyothi Kumar, Group Manager BBTC Manjolai, for his hospitality and for providing timely assistance when none where forthcoming. I also thank Mr. Mohan Vergeese (ex manager) Nalmukh, Mr. Sunil Appayah (Asst Manager) and other managers of Nalmukh for their help.
It would be very difficult to merely thank the help and encouragement received from my colleague Ms.M.Soubadra Devy who has been a wonderful companion all through the doctoral program both in the field and at Pondicherry. I specially thank her for the patience and endurance and ofcourse for her infectious and lively enthusiasm which made me see things through in time. I also thank her for helping me with the analysis and the meticulous care she took to have the figures done. I am also grateful to her parents who helped me in many ways.

My other colleagues Ms.Rani Krishnan and Mr.R.Ganesan have been of tremendous help not only as good companions but also in helping me wade through the maze of tropical botany for tree identification. I thank them a lot. I specially thank R.Ganesan who took great care in rechecking plant identification many times and for taking some 'catchy' fruit photographs.

Field work at Kakachi was possible due to the assistance of many people. Among them I would like to thank Mr.S.Rajan Mr.Jayan, Mr.Sajivan and Mr.Ashok. I also thank Jayan's family for their hospitality and setting the logistic during the early phase of field work. I also appreciate the help of Mr.Kumarasamy who made the Giant Evergreen forest look less forbidding during the early days at Kakachi. I also acknowledge Mr.Anantharayan, Mr.Shakthivel, Ms.Rani Krishnan, Ms Soubadra and R.Ganesan for sparing some of their valuable time to help me in the field and Mr.R.Krishnamani for procuring the rainfall data. Mr Kesavan and Mr Rajan were the most sought after people at the end of a long day who served us not only food but also their cheerful company along with many many glasses of tea, I thank them for all their kindness. I also thank Swamy the local Naturalist et al at Kodayar for sharing his knowledge about the forest and for all his help to numerous to list here.

Field work would never have been accomplished in time but for the drivers of KTC transport Corporation and Natesan Agency (Kalladaikurchi) who took great pride in helping us. Among them I thank Mr Ramakrishnan and Mr Baskar.

Back in Pondicherry, I thank Dr.N.Tejo Prakash (Caco) who had always been a very good companion. I am also grateful to him and Mr.K.B.Ganesh for accommodating me in their hostel rooms during many of my trips from the field. I thank Ms M.Vishnu Priya for sharing her ideas about 'her macaques' and the good company she gave during the long thesis writing stages. I also thank her aunts for their enthusiastic company and help. I would also like to thank Mr.V.Santharam, Mr.R.Ganesan and Ms Soubadra for their valuable comments on my drafts and V.Santharam for sending me the Computer packages and some reprints. I also thank Dr.K.S.Murali, Ms. Rani Krishnan, Dr.R.UmaShaanker and the librarian at Central Library, Pondicherry University, for making many useful references accessible to me. Mr.Saravanan & Co's thanked for their help in the final printing process.

The Tamil Nadu forest department is thanked for their permission to work in the Kalakad-Mundanthurai Tiger Reserve. Financial support for this work partly came from a project funded by TERI, India and Mac Arthur foundation, USA to Dr.K.S.Bawa.
I thank Dr. Devi Prasad, Head, Salim Ali School of Ecology and Environmental Sciences, for his cooperation. Mr. N. Ravi (Ex. Office Manager), and his staff are also thanked for their help and cooperation at all times.

I also thank my Aunt and Uncles at Madras for their kind help and understanding. Finally, I would like to thank, my very dear mother, brother, Manni and little Ajay for their help, understanding and support all through the long doctoral program.
