This study of student indiscipline has been made with a view to understand the factors responsible for student indiscipline in Indian Higher Education and to investigate the role of these factors on the attitudes, morale and norms of the students, which could account for the ready responsiveness of agitational behaviour found in many of the Indian students.

A study of this kind needs the co-operation of many. The investigator gratefully acknowledges the assistance and encouragement received from many sources.

The investigator is indebted to the several Heads of colleges, Departments and University departments and hundreds of college students who have so kindly helped in getting the basic data required for this investigation.

The investigator is deeply grateful to Dr. K. Kulandaivel for his intellectual and academic suggestions, timely guidance and patient forebearance throughout the study.

The investigator owes her warmest thanks to Prof. Balasubramaniam, Reader in Education, University of Madras for his interest, encouragement and critical and constructive suggestions.
To Professor Surendran of the Computer Centre, P.S College of Technology Coimbatore, the investigator owes special thanks for the entire processing of the data collected for the investigation; and to Professor C.M.Lakshmanan of the Perarignar Anna University of Technology, Madras, for the valuable suggestions in this study. The investigator is thankful to several other experts who helped in the construction of tools and to the colleagues and friends who rendered their valuable help. A special thanks goes to Miss Jeyalakshmi A, Professor of English, Nirmala College, Coimbatore.

Mrs. Bhagyam, Principal of Nirmala College has been a source of inspiration throughout the period of the study. The investigator acknowledges her grateful thanks to her.

To Mr.P.Krishnan, Zoology Department, University PG Coimbatore and to Mr.S.Soundara Rajaperumal, University PG Coimbatore who helped in typing and compiling of the thesis speed and efficiency the investigator acknowledges her thankful gratitude.

****