Acknowledgements

To write a PhD thesis is a mammoth task, which can never be done alone. Always there are so many persons who contribute in various direct or indirect ways in the accomplishment of this huge task.

Words will not suffice, I know, still I would like to take this opportunity to thank them in true spirit.

At the outset, I’d like to convey my deep felt gratitude towards my supervisor and mentor Dr. Ruby Jain, Associate professor, Department of Home Science, University of Rajasthan, Jaipur who guided me all through my pursuit in the true sense. Her invaluable guidance, advice and support made this thesis a reality. The learning I have received from her will go a long way in my life. I owe thankfulness to Dr. Susheela Pareek Asst. Prof Department of Psychology, UOR, Jaipur for extending her warm help in the area of statistics.

I would like to express my appreciation to all the Bandhej artisans and traders from the three cities who gave me their time and cooperation when I collected the data necessary for my research work.

I would like to acknowledge my thankfulness towards the staff of various museums and libraries which were referred during the course of work particularly librarians of City Palace Museum, Albert Hall Museum, University of Rajasthan and Sanjay Sharma Memorial Library, Jaipur. Special thanks should go for Ms. Chandramni Singh of Jawahar Kala Kendra.

Family is the strength behind me. Without the cooperation of my family members, this research work of mine would not have been a possibility. The credit of the quality of work should go to my loving husband Dr. Gaurav Vyas, who stood with me through all the thick and thin of this pursuit and helped me actively whenever and wherever needed. I am indebted to my parents and parents in law who encouraged me whenever I felt low. My mother in law and my children need a special mention here who suffered a lot owing to my frequent absence from home for all these years.

A mention of my loving friends and cooperative colleagues is a must here. I am thankful to the management, Director and Principal of S.R. Girls College, Laxmangarh and S.K.S. Girls College, Sikar for supporting me. Mr. Pradeep Pareek, Dr. Mahesh Sharma, Mrs. Seems Sharma also need to be thanked for their perpetual and unconditional cooperation to me. My dear friends Rachana, Nidhi and Siddhi, who were prompt in their help whenever and wherever I needed, deserve a heartfelt thankfulness on my part. Further, I owe thankfulness to Mr. Ajay Kumar Jain and his family who provided me a home away from home at Jaipur.

I pay my regards to all those whose articles or books I have and used for this work as reference.

I am also thankful to the Head, Department of Home Science, University of Rajasthan, Jaipur for providing me the necessary facilities in the Department. I’m extremely grateful to all the staff members of department of Home Science for their direct and indirect motivation provided throughout the period of work.

Above all I thank to God- the Almighty who runs us all and whose love and blessings is the perpetual source of inspiration for such mighty works.

For any errors or inadequacies that may remain in this work, of course, the responsibility is entirely of my own.
