Acknowledgement

Foremost, I wish to express my heartfelt devotion to God for his graceful blessings at every step without which nothing could have been possible.

At the outset, I deem it a matter of profound pride and privilege to articulate my sincere gratitude and indebtedness to my guide, Dr. Maneesha Shukul, Professor, Department of Family and Community Resource Management, Faculty of Family and Community Sciences, The Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda, Vadodara for her scholarly guidance, systematic and constructive suggestions, constant inspiration, moral support and counseling. I have real appreciation and regards for her and her keen interest, judicious guidance, whole hearted ever available and painstaking efforts and above all her warm friendly behaviour.

I express my gratitude to all teachers and staff members of the Family and Community Resource Department for their inspiration, encouragement and help during entire course of present study.

I feel short of words to express my thanks, love and affection to my husband Mr. Rahul Saraswat for demonstrating understanding during an often tiring period. Without his forbearance, appreciable cooperation, patience, sacrifice and moral support this work would not have been completed. He has been source of inspiration for me at every stage with enthusiasm and perseverance.

My deep emotional sense of feeling goes towards the crucial role played by my son Parth Saraswat, who has continuously cooperated, adjusted and supported during the final phase of thesis work.

Although it's like a drop in the ocean, yet I would like to avail this opportunity to express my heartiest sense of reverence and immense love to my parents and parents – in – laws, whose endless love, blessing, moral support, inspiration and sacrifices made me competent enough to fight the battle of life and achieve the goal. I express my sincere thanks to my brother in law Mr. Navin Ojha for supporting, helping and providing his expertise guidance during my entire research work.

I am indebted to God for giving enthusiastic, hardworking and dedicated students Alifiya, Nupur, Urvashi, Sarika, Heer, Kopal, Devyani, Kinjal, who helped me in various ways during various phases of thesis work.
It gives me immense pleasure in recording my sincere thanks to Dr. Neerja Saraswat, ex-student Parth Barot, Ms. Nazish Campawala and Ms. Leena Chauhan for helping me in translating, preparing and recording educational programme prepared.

Words are lacking to express my profound thanks to my friends Mrs. Padmakiran Mervin Philip, Dr. Jyoti Achanta, Mrs. Niyati Linus Gilbert, Dr. Mona Mehta for their wholehearted help, recurrent adjustments, moral support and encouragement especially during the stressful periods. Without their blessings this dream could not have been achieved.

I express my thanks to all my respondents who cooperated with me by sparing their precious time for my work.

Hearty thanks and appreciation goes to Ishwarbhai, Dipakbhai and Robinbhai from Family and Community Resource Management Department for helping in various ways during the entire thesis work.

I extend my sincere thanks to all those who have helped me directly or indirectly in carrying out my research. Finally, though omissions are never intentional still they are unavoidable.
